O.P.A. Official To Explain New Price Regulations At Public Meeting Monday

Mares Sherman, president of the Gettysburg Chamber of Commerce, has announced that a meeting of all retail merchants or business people of Gettysburg and vicinity will be held Monday evening at 8 o'clock in the fire engine house to hear Charles W. Wood, field representative of the Office of Price Administration.

Mr. Wood will explain and interpret the general maximum price regulation on April 28 which places an absolute ceiling over most of the commodities sold at retail. Merchants have until July 1, to put the law into effect, according to the regulations.

President Sherman in calling this meeting points out that each merchant should take advantage of this opportunity. The meeting is open to non-members as well as members of the C. of C. in Gettysburg and vicinity. After the explanation and interpretation of the regulation, questions will be answered on the different retail problems.

At this meeting the bulletin recently off the presses of government printing offices entitled, "What Every Retailer Should Know," will be given to each merchant who has not received his copy.

Almost every type of retailer is affected by this new regulation and it is hoped that every merchant possible will be able to take advantage of this unusual opportunity, Mr. Sherman said.

NEW POTATOES 15C QUART BOX AT MART TODAY

At a busy session at the Farmers' market house this morning, 1942 model potatoes, apples, red beets, Swiss chard, currants and gooseberries were on sale in addition to staple vegetables, meats, flowers, plants and kitchen products.

New potatoes on sale for the first time this year brought 15 cents a quart box. Early Harvest and Transparent apples were offered at several stands at 10 cents a quart box and 20 cents a half peck.

Many Cherries
Cherries were on hand in large supplies. Sour cherries brought 10 and 15 cents a box and sold at two boxes for 25 cents at some stands. Sweet varieties brought 20 and 25 cents with a number of growers receiving 22 cents a quart box and 20 or 21 cents a box in large quantities.

Black raspberries were more plentiful than at any previous season and brought 20 cents a quart box. A few red raspberries could be had at 35 cents a quart box. The first dewberries were offered at 20 cents a quart box. Gooseberries appeared at 10 cents a box.

With strawberries nearing the end of their season, hucksters offered them in limited quantities this morning at prices ranging from 15 to 30 cents a quart, depending upon the size and quality of the fruit.

Other Prices
New red beets were on sale at five cents a bunch. Swiss chard was marked five cents a stalk and head lettuce brought five cents. Radishes and onions sold for five cents a bunch and rhubarb at 10 cents at many stands. Only earlier customers found peas on sale. They brought 15 cents a box with farmers reporting the yield was generally poor this season. String beans were plentiful at 10 cents a quart box and 15 and 20 cents a quarter peck. Currants brought 15 cents a quart box.

COUPLE WEDS IN LITTLESTOWN

Miss Evelyn Margaret Eckenrode, daughter of Mrs. Allen Eckenrode, Littlestown R. D., and Mark Russell Frazer, son of Mrs. Russell Frazer, West High street, were united in marriage this morning at 9 o'clock in St. Aloysius Catholic church in Littlestown. The Rev. Fr. John Weber, rector, officiated at a high nuptial mass. About 150 friends and relatives attended.

The bride was attended by Mrs. Richard Bennett, Littlestown R. D., a sister of the bride, and Paul Frazer, Grantville, a brother of the bridegroom, served as the best man. The bride's dress was a bridal gown with a sweetheart neckline and trimmed with lace and pearls. The dress was buttoned down the back and swept into a graceful train. The bride's fingertip veil was a coronet of pearls with three tiers of net trimmed with lace. Her shower bouquet was of gardenias, white roses and stephanotis.

Mrs. Bennett's gown was of mousseline de soie in softest blue. She carried an arm bouquet of baby's breath, carnations and pink rosebuds.

The children's choir of the church sang. The church was decorated with cut flowers.

After the ceremony a wedding breakfast was served for members of the wedding party, close friends (Please Turn to Page 2)

2 Wardens Appointed In Fairfield, Bendersville

James B. Aumen, chief air raid warden for Adams county, today announced two new appointments of fire wardens in the county.

S. L. Allison will serve in Fairfield and A. B. Reed has been appointed in Bendersville.

Mr. Allison will succeed C. L. Sheads, who has secured employment in the south. Charles W. Bretzman will relinquish his post to Mr. Reed because the former does not live in Bendersville and cannot be reached by telephone.

3-YEAR SHOE FIRM CASE ENDS

The account of Edgar K. Markley, Esq., as receiver in the dissolution of The New Oxford Shoe company, was confirmed finally in court here this morning by Judge W. C. Sheely bringing to a close a case that has been under litigation for three years and once started to a higher state court on an appeal.

Terms of settlement that resulted in the withdrawal of the appeal guided the distribution made in the final account approved this morning in which Markley makes distribution of the amount in his hands as follows: $8,000 to The J. S. Young company, and $16,000 to the Hanover Saving Fund society.

In a petition filed in court this morning, Mrs. Cora Sferra, Gettysburg, asked the court to permit her to amend the original libel in her divorce action against Calvin P. Sferra by alleging indignities to the person. Originally the decree had been sought and recommended by a master on grounds of desertion. In her petition today, Mrs. Sferra stated that she believes that under the law of this state the charge of desertion was not sustained. A rule was granted on Mr. Sferra to show cause why the petition should not be granted.

Precepts for the selection of 48 petit and 24 grand jurors for the August term of quarter sessions court were handed down this morning. The session opens Monday, August 24. Associate Judges A. Dale Knouse and J. Price Oyer were on the bench today with Judge Sheely.

6 Economic Club Meetings Listed

Meetings of six 4-H clubs in Adams county have been announced for next week by Miss Mildred L. Adams, county home economics extension representative.

The schedule follows: Monday afternoon at 1:30 o'clock, Round Top breakfast club at the home of Betty Jacoby, and at 6:30 p. m., Fairfield canning club at the fire engine house there.

Tuesday at 1:30 p. m., Lincolnway east clothing club with Evelyn Geisler.

Wednesday at 1:30 p. m., Red Hill breakfast club at the school house, and at 7:15 p. m., Hunterstown clothing club with Margaret Little.

Thursday at 1:30 p. m., New Chester breakfast club with Marion Starry.

Miss Adams has announced that she will be in her office at the court house each morning next week and on Friday afternoon.

CONVENTION REPORTS

Reports on the sessions of the annual state convention of Lions clubs held recently at Greensburg will be given Monday evening at the weekly dinner meeting of the Gettysburg club by Lions Ira Y. Baker and C. Paul Cessna. The meeting will be held at 6:30 o'clock at the West Gettysburg Inn.

BIRTH ANNOUNCEMENT

Mr. and Mrs. John W. Caskey, York street, announce the birth of a daughter at the Warner hospital Friday evening.

Sugar For Canning Sought By 8,827

With all reports in from the dozen application centers, the county rationing board office announced today that 8,827 special applications for sugar for canning have been received from Adams countians.

No examination has been made of the certificate forms to calculate the number of pounds of sugar covered.

The number of applications received at each registration point follows: Biglerville, 570; Arendtsville, 351; Cashtown, 394; Bendersville, 456; Fairfield, 617; Abbottstown, 198; New Oxford, 850; York Springs, 667; East Berlin, 600; Gettysburg, 2,152; Littlestown, 1,066; and McSherrystown, 906.

NEED ACTION ON SCHOOL BUS PROBLEM NOW

The need for immediate action by a number of school districts in Adams county facing school bus transportation problems was brought out at the June meeting of the Adams county board of school directors, Friday evening. At that meeting the board approved the application of the Butler township board for a new bus to replace a 15-year-old vehicle which cannot pass motor police inspection for service next year.

While it is no longer possible to secure completely new buses, the county board pointed out it is yet possible to get new steel bodies for mounting on recent model chassis that have been lengthened to meet bus requirements. A freezing order on the new bodies is expected by July 1, the county school officials have been told.

Inspection Data Given

Private Robert L. Dunham, of the Gettysburg detail of the state motor police, attended the meeting and submitted to the directors a report on the results of recent police inspection of all school buses in use in Adams county.

His report showed that at least eight buses in use during the term just ended either cannot be made to comply with regulations or require such extensive remodeling and repairs as to make that course impractical. Other buses also do not comply but can be "brought into line" either by adding or adjusting present equipment or by securing waivers from the state Secretary of Revenue, the officer said.

The eight buses' owners and the townships in which they operate follow: J. E. Brough, Menallen township, a 1924 model; Francis J. Orner, Menallen township, a 1927 model; William W. Funt, Butler township, a 1924 model.

HONEY OUTPUT LIGHT IN COUNTY

Bees are having a difficult time gathering nectar and to date the honey flow in Adams County has been very light, County Agent M. T. Hartman said today.

This is one year that wild flowers will play an important part in providing material from which bees may secure nectar, he added.

E. J. Anderson, apiary extension specialist from State College, with County Agent Hartman visited a number of apiaries Friday and found that bees are preparing to swarm and some bees have already swarmed.

Beekeepers should check their bees carefully, remove queen cells and provide plenty of room and ventilation if swarming is to be reduced to a minimum. With clear, hot weather for the next week to ten days there is a possibility of a honey flow in many sections of Adams county, Hartman said.

Hospital Report

Herbert Sollenberger, Gettysburg R. D.; Ralph T. Guise, Gettysburg R. D.; and Mrs. Jesse Tuckey, Biglerville R. D., submitted to operations at the Warner hospital this morning for the removal of their tonsils.

Mrs. Richard Leister, East Middle street, and Mrs. John W. Caskey, York street, have been admitted as patients. Those discharged were Mrs. John J. Reimer and infant son, Donald John, Aspers; Mrs. Stanley Paluskiewicz and infant son, William Anthony, East Middle street, and Mrs. Herbert Klesling and infant daughter, Joan Louise, Baltimore street.

WOMAN RETURNS

Miss Helen Taylor, 37, Springs avenue, reported missing Thursday afternoon, was located in Thomasville, Friday, and has returned to her home here.

Rubber Collection Scrap Being Turned In At Garages, Gas Stations

More than eleven tons of scrap rubber have been received by 27 garages and service stations in Adams county since the start of the collection campaign six days ago.

The number of operators reached in a survey represent only a portion of the total for the county and the amount of rubber received undoubtedly is now somewhat higher.

The campaign will continue until June 30. Gas stations will receive the rubber and are authorized to pay a cent a pound for it or else the scrap may be donated.

The places reached in the survey late Friday afternoon and the amount of scrap rubber each had received since Monday follow:

Junk Dealers Offer Services In Weighing Scrap Rubber

The scrap or "salvage" dealers of Adams county will cooperate in every way with the county salvage committee and all gasoline stations in the current drive for rubber, O. H. Benson, chairman of the county-wide organization, announced today.

Morris Gitlin, of Gettysburg, has offered the following free services: 1. Gas station operators who have no scales or weighing facilities may send rubber to his scales and be weighed free of charge and he will issue weight slips to the person who brings the rubber.

2. Mr. Gitlin also has offered to help classify rubber and explain how to eliminate all non-rubber matter that should not be included with rubber scrap.

This service is being offered to the gas industry and filling station operators of the county and Mr. Benson has urged the dealers to take advantage of this patriotic offer.

In discussing the rubber collection campaign that will continue until June 30, Chairman Benson urged the operators not to turn down any rubber delivered to their stations. If further instructions are needed they may be secured from Carl S. Menchey, of Gettysburg, county chairman of gas station operators, or from Chairman Benson, of Guernsey.

Every Adams county farmer is being asked to deliver his scrap rubber to his gas dealer. The field and district chairmen and committee members of the county agricultural adjustment and soil conservation administration have been called upon to contact every farm and secure the scrap rubber. Contacts may be made in person or by telephoning the following who are operating the farm scrap activities:

WAR BOARD TO SEEK STATE AID FOR FARM LABOR

The Adams county War Board at a regular meeting Friday evening selected a group of its members and several other key men in the county farm labor situation to confer with Dr. Francis B. Haas, state superintendent of Public Instruction, at the earliest possible date on the problem of school cooperation in solving the acute labor shortage at harvest time in county fields and orchards.

Greatly concerned about the seriousness of the farm labor shortage here and convinced that early or delayed opening of the school year will not provide a solution under present attendance regulations, the group will lay before the state school executive the problem facing the 300 fruitmen and several thousand farmers and growers of canning crops in this county.

Some Questions
Among the questions the group has been directed to consult upon with Doctor Haas is the possibility of shortening the school term means of legalizing school absences of pupils needed on their home farms and orchards and the possibility of having high school boys and girls work on farms, and orchards under teacher supervision and receive school credits for that service.

The group will emphasize the "emergency" nature of the problem and its close relation to the war effort.

Allied Attack Coming

London, June 20 (AP)—Britain and the United States will launch a great, successful attack on Hitler in the west when the proper time comes, Sir Stafford Cripps, parliamentary deputy for Prime Minister Churchill, declared today.

"We can not say" when the attack will come, Sir Stafford told a meeting observing the anniversary of the June 22 German attack on Russia and the British-Soviet alliance.

"I am not going to help Hitler by telling you or him the time of the attack," Sir Stafford said, adding that Russian Foreign Commissar Vyacheslav Molotov, who recently was in London, "knows much more about it than I can tell you."

The attack must not fail, he said.

Sir Stafford, who was Britain's ambassador to Russia at the time of the German invasion, praised the recent British-Russian pact as the "laying of a great foundation stone for the structure of the post-war world."

[By The Associated Press]

British dispatches said today that Adolf Hitler, apparently bent on a full-scale invasion of the middle east, had urgently requested France's pro-Nazi Premier Pierre Laval to cede 1,000,000 tons of French merchant shipping in the Mediterranean to Germany.

Other developments indicated strongly that the great battles of this summer were to be fought in the ancient lands of Egypt, Iraq, Iran (Persia) and possibly Turkey.

In Washington, London reports that Prime Minister Churchill was seeking quick United States help in the Mediterranean theater were taken to indicate that the British believed a tremendous German drive against Suez was impending.

While British North African armies girded for the defense of Egypt, Hitler's field headquarters announced that "the destruction of Sevastopol continues" amid heavy fighting around a northern fort of the big Crimean Naval base.

With Sevastopol out of the way, Hitler would be in a position to send his armies into the oil-rich Caucasus and down that land bridge to the middle east in a thrust synchronized with one eastward against Egypt and the Suez.

A BBC broadcast quoted its Moscow correspondent as saying "the Germans have reached a high road leading to Sevastopol. . . . The danger is very great."

The correspondent said Nazi shock troops had cut a wedge pointing dangerously at the heart of the city and were attacking furiously despite an estimated toll of 40,000 killed in the last 15 days.

While Britains at home clamored for an "inquest" into the grave but not necessarily disastrous defeat of the British armies around Tobruk, Gen. Sir Claude Auchinleck hastily mustered his forces to combat an expected Nazi onslaught toward Egypt.

Moscow, June 20 (AP)—Reinforced Nazi troops—perhaps spurred by hopes of a token victory for the first anniversary of the German-Russian war Monday—appeared today to be increasing pressure upon smoking and explosive-scarred Sevastopol.

"AG" TEACHERS REPORT ON WORK

Vocational agriculture teachers of Adams county and their families attended a picnic meeting Friday evening at the South Mountain fair grounds. A business session followed the evening meal.

It was announced that on August 26, D. C. Sprague, State College, will conduct an all-day demonstration on tractor and plow hitching on a county farm for the vocational "ag" teachers of the county.

The teachers submitted to Richard C. Lighter, county vocational agriculture supervisor, complete reports covering shop work done during day and evening classes in their respective schools during the last school year. Information included in those reports will be summarized and used by Mr. Sprague in the course of the annual conference of the Pennsylvania Vocational Association to be held next Thursday and Friday at Eagles Mers. All of the county "ag" teachers will attend the conference.

The county teachers will hold their next picnic meeting in July at the Farmers' picnic grove, near East Berlin, on a date not yet set.

BOY SALESMEN BREAK 2 RECORDS FOR WAR STAMPS

The Gettysburg Times war stamp salesmen broke two records for the last week's sales ending Friday.

First, a new high figure of 54,983 ten-cent stamps or their equivalent in War Bonds was sold in one week. Second, a record goes to a new official stamp salesman, Luther Smith, Jr., son of Mr. and Mrs. Luther Smith, Hanover street, who has sold 36,405 stamps in his first week.

The grand total of stamp sales for the twenty-sixth week is 384,870 stamps worth $38,487.

In addition to Luther Smith, Jr., taking first place for the week's sales, second honor goes to J. Henry Hershey, of Cashtown, who sold a total of 10,510 stamps; James Bucher is in third place. He sold 2,001 stamps.

In the total sales for the twenty-six weeks, first honors go to J. Henry Hershey, of Cashtown, with 62,340 stamps; second place, Thomas Small with 56,970 stamps and third, Robert Starnor, of Biglerville, who has sold a total of 48,784 stamps.

One of the most heartening and laudable features of The Gettysburg Times newspaper sales of War Defense stamps is that no special stimulus to keep them going has been given to these boys except the emblems earned from Treasury Department in Washington, D. C. They are modestly proud of the part they are taking in America's war effort and to them it's a job (Please Turn to Page 2)

NEED ACTION ON SCHOOL BUS PROBLEM NOW

The need for immediate action by a number of school districts in Adams county facing school bus transportation problems was brought out at the June meeting of the Adams county board of school directors, Friday evening. At that meeting the board approved the application of the Butler township board for a new bus to replace a 15-year-old vehicle which cannot pass motor police inspection for service next year.

While it is no longer possible to secure completely new buses, the county board pointed out it is yet possible to get new steel bodies for mounting on recent model chassis that have been lengthened to meet bus requirements. Junk Dealers Offer Services In Weighing Scrap Rubber

The scrap or "salvage" dealers of Adams county will cooperate in every way with the county salvage committee and all gasoline stations in the current drive for rubber, O. H. Benson, chairman of the county-wide organization, announced today.

Morris Gitlin, of Gettysburg, has offered the following free services: 1. Gas station operators who have no scales or weighing facilities may send rubber to his scales and he will weigh free of charge and he will issue weight slips to the person who brings the rubber.

2. Mr. Gitlin also has offered to help classify rubber and explain how to eliminate all non-rubber matter that should not be included with rubber scrap.

Urges Cooperation
This service is being offered to the gas industry and filling station operators of the county and Mr. Benson has urged the dealers to take advantage of this patriotic offer.

WAR BOARD TO SEEK STATE AID FOR FARM LABOR

The Adams county War Board at a regular meeting Friday evening selected a group of its members and several other key men in the county farm labor situation to confer with Dr. Francis B. Haas, state superintendent of Public Instruction, at the earliest possible date on the problem of school cooperation in solving the acute labor shortage at harvest time in county fields and orchards.

Greatly concerned about the seriousness of the farm labor shortage here and convinced that early or delayed opening of the school year will not provide a solution under present attendance regulations, the group will lay before the state school executive the problem facing the 300 fruitmen and several thousand farmers and growers of canning crops in this county.

Some Questions
Among the questions the group has been directed to consult upon with Doctor Haas is the possibility of shortening the school term, means of legalizing school absences of pupils needed on their home farms and orchards and the possibility of having high school boys and girls work on farms, and orchards under teacher supervision and receive school credits for that service.

The group will emphasize the "emergency" nature of the problem and its close relation to the war effort.

Allied Attack Coming

London, June 20 (AP)—Britain and the United States will launch a great, successful attack on Hitler in the west when the proper time comes, Sir Stafford Cripps, parliamentary deputy for Prime Minister Churchill, declared today.

"We can not say" when the attack will come, Sir Stafford told a meeting observing the anniversary of the June 22 German attack on Russia and the British-Soviet alliance.

"I am not going to help Hitler by telling you or him the time of the attack," Sir Stafford said, adding that Russian Foreign Commissar Vyacheslav Molotov, who recently was in London, "knows much more about it than I can tell you."

The attack must not fail, he said.

Sir Stafford, who was Britain's ambassador to Russia at the time of the German invasion, praised the recent British-Russian pact as the "laying of a great foundation stone for the structure of the post-war world."

[By The Associated Press]

British dispatches said today that Adolf Hitler, apparently bent on a full-scale invasion of the middle east, had urgently requested France's pro-Nazi Premier Pierre Laval to cede 1,000,000 tons of French merchant shipping in the Mediterranean to Germany.

Other developments indicated strongly that the great battles of this summer were to be fought in the ancient lands of Egypt, Iraq, Iran (Persia) and possibly Turkey.

In Washington, London reports that Prime Minister Churchill was seeking quick United States help in the Mediterranean theater were taken to indicate that the British believed a tremendous German drive against Suez was impending.

While British North African armies girded for the defense of Egypt, Hitler's field headquarters announced that "the destruction of Sevastopol continues" amid heavy fighting around a northern fort of the big Crimean Naval base.

With Sevastopol out of the way, Hitler would be in a position to send his armies into the oil-rich Caucasus and down that land bridge to the middle east in a thrust synchronized with one eastward against Egypt and the Suez.

A BBC broadcast quoted its Moscow correspondent as saying "the Germans have reached a high road leading to Sevastopol. . . . The danger is very great."

The correspondent said Nazi shock troops had cut a wedge pointing dangerously at the heart of the city and were attacking furiously despite an estimated toll of 40,000 killed in the last 16 days.

While Britains at home clamored for an "inquest" into the grave but not necessarily disastrous defeat of the British armies around Tobruk, Gen. Sir Claude Auchinleck hastily mustered his forces to combat an expected Nazi onslaught toward Egypt.

Moscow, June 20 (AP)—Reinforced Nazi troops—perhaps spurred by hopes of a token victory for the first anniversary of the German-Russian war Monday—appeared today to be increasing pressure upon smoking and explosive-scarred Sevastopol.

"AG" TEACHERS REPORT ON WORK

Vocational agriculture teachers of Adams county and their families attended a picnic meeting Friday evening at the South Mountain fair grounds. A business session followed the evening meal.

It was announced that on August 26, D. C. Sprague, State College, will conduct an all-day demonstration on tractor and plow hitching on a county farm for the vocational "ag" teachers of the county.

The teachers submitted to Richard C. Lighter, county vocational agriculture supervisor, complete reports covering shop work done during day and evening classes in their respective schools during the last school year. Information included in those reports will be summarized and used by Mr. Sprague in the course of the annual conference of the Pennsylvania Vocational Association to be held next Thursday and Friday at Eagles Mere. All of the county "ag" teachers will attend the conference.

The county teachers will hold their next picnic meeting in July at the Farmers' picnic grove, near East Berlin, on a date not yet set.

NEW POTATOES 15C QUART BOX AT MART TODAY

At a busy session at the Farmers' market house this morning, 1942 model potatoes, apples, red beets, swiss chard, currants and gooseberries were on sale in addition to staple vegetables, meats, flowers, plants and kitchen products.

New potatoes on sale for the first time this year brought 15 cents a quart box. Early Harvest and Transparent apples were offered at several stands at 10 cents a quart box and 20 cents a half peck.

Many Cherries
Cherries were on hand in large supplies. Sour cherries brought 10 and 15 cents a box and sold at two boxes for 25 cents at some stands. Sweet varieties brought 20 and 25 cents with a number of growers receiving 22 cents a quart box and 20 or 21 cents a box in large quantities.

Black raspberries were more plentiful than at any previous session and brought 20 cents a quart box. A few red raspberries could be had at 35 cents a quart box. The first dewberries were offered at 20 cents a quart box. Gooseberries appeared at 10 cents a box.

With strawberries nearing the end of their season, hucksters offered them in limited quantities this morning at prices ranging from 15 to 30 cents a quart, depending upon the size and quality of the fruit.

Other Prices
New red beets were on sale at five cents a bunch. Swiss chard was marked five cents a stalk and head lettuce brought five cents. Radishes and onions sold for five cents a bunch and rhubarb at 10 cents at many stands. Only earlier customers found peas on sale. They brought 15 cents a box with farmers reporting the yield was generally poor this season. String beans were plentiful at 10 cents a quart box and 15 and 20 cents a quarter peck. Currants brought 15 cents a quart box.

Eggs brought 32 cents and dressed chicken prices ranged from 38 to 45 cents a pound. Vegetable and flower plants continued on sale and many stalls offered cut flowers.

COUPLE WEDS IN LITTLESTOWN

Miss Evelyn Margaret Eckenrode, daughter of Mrs. Allen Eckenrode, Littlestown R. D., and Mark Russell Frazer, son of Mrs. Russell Frazer, West High street, were united in marriage this morning at 9 o'clock in St. Aloysius Catholic church in Littlestown. The Rev. Fr. John Weber, rector, officiated at a high nuptial mass. About 150 friends and relatives attended.

The bride was attended by Mrs. Richard Bennett, Littlestown R. D., a sister of the bride, and Paul Frazer, Grantville, a brother of the bridegroom, served as the best man.

The bride's dress was a bridal gown satin with a sweetheart neckline and trimmed with lace and pearls. The dress was buttoned down the back and swept into a graceful train. The bride's fingertip veil was a coronet of pearls with three tiers of net trimmed with lace. Her shower bouquet was of gardenias, white roses and Stephanotis.

Mrs. Bennett's gown was of mousseline de soie in softest blue. She carried an arm bouquet of baby's breath, carnations and pink roses.

The children's choir of the church sang.

The church was decorated with cut flowers.

After the ceremony a wedding breakfast was served for members of the wedding party, close friends (Please Turn to Page 2)

2 Wardens Appointed In Fairfield, Bendersville

James B. Aumen, chief air raid warden for Adams county, today announced two new appointments of fire wardens in the county.

S. L. Allison will serve in Fairfield and A. B. Reed has been appointed in Bendersville.

Mr. Allison will succeed C. L. Sheads, who has secured employment in the south. Charles W. Bretzman will relinquish his post to Mr. Reed because the former does not live in Bendersville and cannot be reached by telephone.

3-YEAR SHOE FIRM CASE ENDS

The account of Edgar K. Markley, Esq., as receiver in the dissolution of The New Oxford Shoe company, was confirmed finally in court here this morning by Judge W. C. Sheely bringing to a close a case that has been under litigation for three years and once started to a higher state court on an appeal.

Terms of settlement that resulted in the withdrawal of the appeal guided the distribution made in the final account approved this morning in which Markley makes distribution of the amount in his hands as follows: $8,000 to The J. S. Young company, and $16,000 to the Hanover Saving Fund society.

In a petition filed in court this morning, Mrs. Cora Sfera, Gettysburg, asked the court to permit her to amend the original libel in her divorce action against Calvin P. Sfera by alleging indignities to the person. Originally the decree had been sought and recommended by a master on grounds of desertion. In her petition today, Mrs. Sfera stated that she believes that under the law of this state the charge of desertion was not sustained. A rule was granted on Mr. Sfera to show cause why the petition should not be granted.

Precepts for the selection of 48 petit and 24 grand jurors for the August term of quarter sessions court were handed down this morning. The session opens Monday, August 24.

Associate Judges A. Dale Knouse and J. Price Oyler were on the bench today with Judge Sheely.

Defense Proclamation

WHEREAS, the General Assembly of the Commonwealth of Pennsylvania, through the State Council of Defense act, has authorized political subdivisions in the Commonwealth to establish local councils of Defense by the proclamations of the executive officers of governing bodies thereof to cooperate with and assist the State Council and County Councils of Defense by performing such services as may be requested of them, and

WHEREAS, the Governor of Pennsylvania has declared this to be a time of emergency and public need and by proclamation has established a State Council of Defense, and

WHEREAS, the Commissioners of the County of Adams have by proclamation created a County Council of Defense to cooperate with the State Council of Defense and to coordinate and direct the activities of Local Councils of Defense in this County, and

WHEREAS, the State Council of Defense, through the County Councils of Defense, has requested that local Councils of Defense be established in all of the cities and boroughs within the Commonwealth of Pennsylvania.

NOW, THEREFORE, I, Fred G. Pfeffer, Burgess of the Borough of Gettysburg, in the County of Adams and State of Pennsylvania, by virtue of the authority vested in me by the State Council of Defense do proclaim the following:

1. Reposing special trust and confidence in the ability, fidelity, and patriotism of LeRoy H. Winebrenner, chairman; Sgt. Raymond Strohm, C. A. Heiges, Fred G. Pfeffer, Lawrence Sheads, Glenn Guise, Dr. W. S. Mountain, John Hewitt, Wilbur J. Stallsmith, H. M. Oyler, Hugh C. McIlhenny, Arthur E. Hutchison, Horace E. Smiley, Edward Trimmer, Mrs. E. S. Lewars and Miss Sarah Clark, they and their successors hereby are established as a Local Council of Defense for the Borough of Gettysburg, Adams County, Pennsylvania, to exercise all lawful powers which may be conferred upon them as such by the General Assembly of the Commonwealth and by the State Council of Defense and the Adams County Council of Defense.

2. In order that there may be full cooperation in carrying into effect the purposes of the State Council of Defense act, I call upon all citizens of the Borough of Gettysburg to offer their services to the officials filling the purposes of their appointment.

Witness my hand at the Borough of Gettysburg, Adams County, Pennsylvania, this 19th day of June, 1942.

SCHOOL SCRAP FOR WAR
Pittsburgh, June 19 (AP)—Fire-escapes on old public school buildings here will be used to blow Axis fighters "to where they'll need 'em but can't use 'em," a Pittsburgh school board committee announced today. The committee voted, subject to board approval, to sell for scrap more than 100 tons of fire-escapes and other iron gadgets now available at abandoned school houses.

SUGGESTS CARRIER NAME
Washington, June 19 (AP)—Representative James E. Van Zandt (R-Pa.) asked Secretary of the Navy Knox today to name an aircraft carrier "valley Forge." "The announcement that a new aircraft carrier is to be named the Lexington has brought to my mind that an appropriate name for one of the new aircraft carriers would be the U.S.S. Valley Forge which would honor the services rendered by Washington and his men at that historic point in Pennsylvania," the congressman wrote to Knox.

COAL FIRM SUSPENDED
Washington, June 19 (AP)—The Bituminous Coal Division announced today the registration of the Eastern Coal and Coke Company, Philadelphia, Pa., a distributor, had been suspended for 30 days upon a finding that the company had "violated regulations by accepting commissions in excess of the authorized amount in selling coal."

—Although Edgar Bergen, aided by the little man of wood, Charlie McCarthy, got an announced $282,000 for his 1941 broadcasts, that doesn't mean he's the top money-maker in radio. Available salary estimates indicate Kate Smith leads them all.

Published figures have placed her income from the microphone at upwards of $350,000 a year, including both her daytime series which runs the year round and her evening variety show which goes on vacation in the summer.

Roosevelt And Churchill Mapping Counter-Blows To Axis Summer Drive

Washington, June 20 (AP)—President Roosevelt and Prime Minister Churchill were believed today to be mapping counter-blows to a desperate Axis summer offensive in Europe, Asia and Africa.

The White House continued the strict official silence imposed when the strategy conferences were announced Thursday night, but the official encouragement to speculate on invasion of the European continent, the grave turn of the war in Africa and the rising fury of conflict on the eastern front indicated to many in the capital that decisions were being made in the knowledge that Berlin and Tokyo already were sending new forces toward a battle whose zero hour was drawing near.

The Allied high command, it was thought, would certainly have received advance intelligence of any tremendous German move in Europe.

Can't Conceal Movements
Observers pointed out that diplomatic sources in London had known of German troop movements for the Russian war several months before it started.

Any large-scale change in German dispositions now, it was said, could hardly have been concealed.

London reports that Prime Minister Churchill was seeking quick United States help in stabilizing the Mediterranean front were taken to indicate that the British believed a tremendous German drive against Suez was impending, if not already under way.

As for the Pacific, word from China that the Japanese were preparing a blow against Siberia was being taken with increasing seriousness.

The exploratory Japanese sallies against the Aleutians, it was said, might well have been made primarily to establish reconnaissance bases. These bases would be used to send word of any large-scale American convoys bearing aid for the Red armies in Siberia.

Observers assessing the military situation saw American production slowly tipping the scales in any long range view of the war. They believed the Axis, therefore, would try for a quick victory.

Must Distribute Strength
The immediate task of the President and the Prime Minister was pictured as that of distributing available strength to meet Axis thrusts and developing Allied counter-drives. The Axis strategy was thought to follow these lines:

In Africa the Germans would try to exploit the breakthrough in the western desert with a smash into Egypt and toward the Suez canal. An attempt would be made to rush to this new battlefield the strong forces long immobilized in Italy and Greece.

This would involve the use of all available units of the Italian fleet under an umbrella of combat planes based on Italy, Crete and African coastal points wrested from the British.

In southeastern Europe there would be an all-out drive toward the Caucasus oil lands. It might be coupled with a push toward Suez from the North. Either by way of Crete and Syria or through neutral Turkey. Any successful drive through Turkey also would flank Russian armies holding the Baku-Batum area.

Air Raids in U. S.?

From western Europe the Germans would unleash an intensified air-sea campaign against British and United States shipping. This might involve raids on England, a sea foray against Iceland by the battleship Tirpitz and the new aircraft carriers Graf Zeppelin and Deutschland, and possibly diversion air raids on Washington and New York.

The Germans are believed to have about 150 Heinkel 177s which could be used in such raids and British fliers have reported seeing mile-long runways in Norway from which they could take off. With 1,000 pounds of bombs, the Heinkel 177 is said to have a range of 7,000 miles, enough for land-based attacks on the New York-Washington area.

The Japanese, under a co-ordinated attack strategy, would strike at the Red Siberian armies in time with Nazi assaults in Europe.

CAUGHT

Reading, Pa., June 20 (AP)—Captured after a 24-hour manhunt, Stanley Pitchcuskie, 25-year-old Shamokin, Pa., convict, was back in his cell today in Berks county prison, from which he escaped Thursday. State motor police caught him yesterday near Summit Station, Schuylkill county. Bloodhounds and an airplane had been used earlier in the search. Pitchcuskie is awaiting sentence on charges of burglary, larceny and malicious mischief.

SCRAPPED

Philadelphia, June 20 (AP)—One of the oldest railroad rights-of-way in the nation is being stripped of rails to aid the war effort. The Office of War Information says the two-mile-long Avondale branch of the Baltimore and Ohio railroad, idle six years, will yield enough scrap to build 25 medium tanks. The original deed on the right-of-way was issued by William Penn, the OWI says, and the first rails were wooden.

Allied Headquarters, Australia, June 20 (AP)—A strong force of Allied bombers scored three direct hits yesterday on a 10,000-ton Japanese transport and probably damaged other ships in the harbor at Rabaul, New Britain, Gen. Douglas MacArthur's headquarters announced today.

London, June 20 (AP)—Hundreds of RAF fighter planes renewed their heavy assaults on the German-occupied coast of France today.

range for a conference at Harrisburg early next week included Harrison F. Snyder, chairman of the county War Board; Robert Myers, chairman of the board's farm labor committee; County Agent M. T. Hartman, Richard C. Lighter, vocational agriculture adviser in Adams county; John W. Luca, a local school director; Assemblyman George L. Baugher, member of a special "steering" committee in the farm labor group, and Wirt Winebrenner, state coordinator for the canning industry and also a member of the general committee on farm labor here.

Get Wage Report
Friday evening's action was along the same lines as that taken Thursday evening at the June meeting of the Adams county fruit growers when a committee was directed to take to Harrisburg the labor problems of the fruit grower.

At Friday evening's session the War Board received a report of one instance in which wages of high school boys working in a county orchard had been cut from the rate at which they had been employed. With only limited information on hand, the board directed that an investigation be made of the circumstances surrounding the case.

Board members emphasized that they have received numerous reports of instances in which high school boys and girls are working in county orchards and on farms with results that are entirely satisfactory to both the youths and the employers.

The board pointed out the importance of giving the boys and girls who are untrained in farm and orchard work the proper amount of training and supervision until they learn how to perform satisfactorily the duties expected of them.

Chairman Snyder presided at the meeting Friday evening which was held in the Farm Bureau building.

SWIMMERS STOP BOAT

Pittsburgh, June 20 (AP)—A U.S. Coast Guard officer reported today that swimmers and operators of pleasure craft are slowing up delivery of war materials by getting in the way of towboats pushing barges in the Allegheny, Monongahela and Ohio rivers. Some towboats have been forced to stop and wait until the channel of the rivers is cleared, pilots complained. Ensign J. S. Sorenson of the Coast Guard warned that "unless an immediate improvement in this situation is evidenced, violators will be arrested and prosecuted."

INDEPENDENTS ORGANIZE

Pittsburgh, June 20 (AP)—Steps are being taken to form a national federation of independent unions for electric power company employees, George L. Mueller of Pittsburgh, a leader in the movement, said today. Mueller, president of the Independent Association of Duquesne Light Company employees, said an organization meeting would be held next month, probably in Washington. He expected 15 unions with a claimed membership of 100,000 would be represented at the meeting.

that must be carried to the end of the war.

Bernard Little (above) served six months as a salesman in The Gettysburg Times War Savings stamp campaign until he had secured employment in an agricultural defense position. While selling the stamps he earned all the emblems and the Merit of Award offered by the Treasury department. Bernard is the son of Mr. and Mrs. William Little, South Washington street.

Secretary Henry Morgenthau, Jr., sent a personal letter to all daily newspapers participating which said: "We at the Treasury department are proud of the newspaper boys who have started a new kind of newspaper service in this country. They are selling more than 12,000,000 War Savings Stamps every week for a total of well over a million dollars every seven days. The latest reports show that 883 newspapers in 47 states and Hawaii already have sold over $30,773,791.20 worth of United States War Savings Stamps and Bonds. The sole reward these young Americans get is the satisfaction of doing a man-sized job in the war program."

Another new carrier boy for The Gettysburg Times was inducted officially in The Times family as one of the agents for the Treasury department. He is William Sperry, son of Mrs. Ida Hartley Sperry, Carlisle street. He has made a fine start for the week with 400 stamps.

STRIKE ENDS

Coatesville, Pa., June 20 (AP)—War production was resumed today in the open hearth department of Lukens Steel Company after a two-day wildcat strike, ended at the request of the War Labor Board. Theodore Kheel, the board's assistant secretary, appealed to the workers as "patriotic citizens" and the United Steel Workers Union ordered them to return. The union said it did not authorize the stoppage, which resulted from a dispute over bonus payments.

REUNION SOON

'HONOR THY SON' SLOGAN FOR '42 FATHER'S DAY

Spokane, Wash., June 20 (AP)—Father's Day, which gained its impetus during one war, enters another with its founder suggesting a special slogan for 1942—"Honor Thy Son."

"War time censorship and soldiers' pay limits the letters and the gifts a warrior son may send his father, but there is no limit or restriction to the words a proud dad can send his boy," Mrs. John Bruce Dodd, who established Father's Day in 1910, observed today.

"Every father's son in the Army, Navy or Marines is hungry for news from home, and he will be thinking especially of father tomorrow. What could be a better way for dad to show his pride and affection than to dedicate his own day to the boy in uniform?"

"Write the boy a letter, a long letter, full of news about yourself and all the family and all the neighbors."

The selflessness of Mrs. Dodd's own father, William Jackson Smart, led to the founding of a day dedicated to all dads.

Her mother died during the Spanish-American war, leaving Smart with six small children. Strict but gentle, he played the role of both mother and father through the years until his boys and girls were grown and married.

Father's Day was a joke to the nation until the first World War brought a new perspective. The doughboy in France missed his dad. When the third Sunday in June approached, the soldiers remembered someone had called it Father's Day.

The first shipload of uncensored letters from American boys in France bore the addresses of dads in the United States.

Budgets Approved

The Butler township petition, which was acted on favorably by the county board, asked for a new 60-passenger bus to replace an old bus that is "too small and inefficient." It refers to the vehicle operated by Funt and lifted by Private Dunham as not meeting specifications.

The directors approved, signed and ordered forwarded to Harrisburg the new school budgets for the following districts: Highland, Mt. Joy, Oxford, Franklin, Union, Reading, Tyrone, Biglerville, McSherrystown, Arendtsville vocational, Arendtsville borough, Menallen, Huntingdon, Fairfield, Freedom, New Oxford, Germany and Berwick.

Friday evening's meeting was the last regular session for two members of the board—Secretary Willis H. Lady, Biglerville, and Second Vice President John W. Lucabaugh, Berwick township.

Mr. Lady ends a four-year term on the board on July 6, the beginning of the new school year. He has served as the board's secretary ever since it was formed four years ago. Mr. Lucabaugh, a former president of the county board, served out three years of the unexpired term of the late Roy M. Raffensperger, the county board's first president.

Their places will be taken on the board by Zeal Peters of Tyrone township and Luther Jacobs of Highland township.

LEFTY SMITH IS UNLUCKY; LOST BALL BEATS HIM

By JUDSON BAILEY
Associated Press Sports Writer

The unluckiest man in baseball, by all odds, is Lefty Edgar Smith of the Chicago White Sox.

After he had lost ten games in a row without winning, the fat, good-natured southpaw star thought his tide had turned Sunday when he beat the Washington Senators. He figured he had hit bottom in the game lost 2-0 to the Philadelphia Athletics although allowing only two hits.

But Smith learned last night that there are even tougher breaks: The Boston Red Sox beat him 1-0 on a home run when the ball stuck under the bull pen bench at Comiskey park.

Smith waged a magnificent hurling duel with Broadway Charley Wagner of the Red Sox, spacing seven hits to Wagner's six.

The only difference between the two was that drive by Dominic DIMAGGIO which rolled out of sight under the bench and couldn't be found till DIMAGGIO was crossing the plate.

Smith had been beaten twice before 1-0, twice 2-1, once 4-3 and once, of course 2-0. Altogether he has lost six games by one run.

This dramatic mischance took some of the attention away from the New York Yankees fourth loss in five games; Paul Waner getting his 3,000th hit; the Brooklyn Dodgers against the St. Louis Cardinals again, and other sprightly developments.

The Yanks were whipped 5-4 at Cleveland as the Veteran Mel Harder pitched four-hit ball, blanking all the Yanks except Bill Dickey (3 hits) and Phil Rizzuto who hit a two-run homer. The Indians were held to five hits by Lefty Gomez and John Murphy, but two of these hits were a homer and a triple by Oris Hockett.

John Niggeling pitched a four-hit shutout as the St. Louis Browns pelted the Philadelphia Athletics 4-0 with a 12-hit attack and Hal White hurled six-hit ball as the Detroit Tigers trimmed the Washington Senators 5-1.

The Dodgers boosted their National league lead to 6½ games by stopping St. Louis for the second straight time 4-3. Whitlow Wyatt annexing his seventh triumph against one defeat.

Brooklyn made eight hits, but took command of the game early when John Rizzo rifled a two-run homer off Lefty Ernie White in the second inning. In the third Pete Reiser stole home for the second time this season.

Waner's entry into a select group of six all-time stars who have made 3,000 hits—Cobb, Speaker, Wagner, Collins, Lajoie and Anson, all of them in baseball's hall of fame—proved just an incident in a thrilling 11-inning struggle which the Pittsburgh Pirates captured from the Boston Braves 7-6. Bob Elliott's second home run with two on in the 11th provided enough margin to withstand a two-run circuit clout by Nanny Fernandez in the last half of the inning.

Cincinnati subdued the Phils 6-4 on a three-run homer by Gee Walker, and the New York Giants beat the Chicago Cubs 6-5 after losing the first game of a doubleheader 7-4. The two games produced 49 hits, including five home runs.

Louis Makes Farewell Exhibition Appearance

Yaphank, N. Y., June 20 (AP)—A Brooklyn cop has proved that Uncle Sam's soldier outfit can do just as good a job of fight promotion as the next fellow.

Major Francis J. Quigley, who in civilian life headed the homicide squad in Flatbush, put on a card of seven all-service-men bouts out here at Camp Upton last night, headed by a three-rounder featuring Joe Louis, and liberally sprinkled with enough volunteer stage entertainment to start a couple of Broadway shows. And the whole thing went off as smoothly as a Mike Jacobs production in Madison Square Garden.

The fights themselves, except for a light-hitting three-round exhibition between welterweight contenders young Kid McCoy of Detroit and California Jackie Wilson, both of whom are privates here, were snappy punch-tossing affairs. Louis, making his farewell exhibition before leaving for Fort Riley, Kansas, had a small "mouse" raised under his right eye by sparring George Nicholson's left jab in the first round of their get-together. In the second and third heats, George realized this was a mistake, because it made Joe angry and he started playing for keeps.

Louis wasn't to have appeared on the card, because the Army had ordered him to leave yesterday evening for Fort Riley, Kans., but the last minute this order was countermanded so that he could fulfill this engagement. And last night it was learned that the countermanding order came directly from President Roosevelt.

By HUGH FULLERTON, JR.

New York, June 20 (AP)—Looks as if the Navy's new 49-hour limit on athletic tours would put a real crimp in the football schedules of these big pre-fight schools.

Georgia, for instance, could hardly hop to New England or the midwest, play a game and get home in time.

Auburn Jack Meagher, who is handling the schedules for the Georgia outfit and the Jacksonville and Pensacola fliers, may find his own toughening-up program right there. . . . Suggestion for an added event at tomorrow's A.A.U. track and field championships—throwing the program. It weighs about 1½ pounds on your bathroom scales and contains $75,000 worth of advertising. . . . Otey Crisman, one of the early leaders in the Hale America Golf tournament, won his place in the district qualifying by tossing a coin. No doubt the side with the birdie came up.

THE REAL DECOY

Jim Reed of the Burlington (Ia.) Hawk-Eye Gazette reports that his townsman, John A. Dehner, was about ready to write off the next hunting season as a total loss the other night when his bird dog suddenly decided to make a point on its own dog house. . . . But on investigation, Dehner found a wild wood duck and eight duckling hiding in the corner.

SENATORS DISAGREE

Washington, June 20 (AP)—A sharp disagreement among senators threatened Friday to balk administration efforts to obtain congressional approval of a bill providing for the payment of benefits to civilian war and blackout victims. Opposition developed among both democrats and republicans to a measure, approved by a half dozen government agencies including the budget bureau, which would authorize monthly cash benefits of from $10 to $85 for disability, death or capture as the result of enemy action. Similar benefits would be paid for civilian casualties in practice blackouts.

FATHER-IN-LAW IS PITTSBURGH CHAMP--CONN

Pittsburgh, June 20 (AP)—Home on furlough after several weeks of convalescing and (what is something) window-washing in an Army hospital, Private Billy Conn said today the left hand he broke, on his pa-in-law's head is completely mended and "in six weeks I'll be ready to fight anybody. Joe Louis included."

Conn had clashed last month with father-in-law, Jimmy Smith, former major league baseball player who came away without a scratch from his one-round scrap with the No. 1 heavyweight challenger. The family rift probably cost Billy $125,000, his estimated share of the Louis-Conn title fight which the hand injury put off.

"Yep, I'll be ready to meet anybody. If there is anyone around to fight and if I am allowed to fight," he said.

Chances of re-scheduling his second go against Louis, the heavyweight champ, are considerably up in the air right now. Secretary of War Stimson announced this week that Corporal Louis would make no more public appearances. Except for the armed forces, until he completes his basic military training.

Conn let it be known that receiving the Brown Bomber's kayo punch (he did last year) was a punishment compared with the chore of washing windows the past four weeks in Fort Jay hospital, where he was quarantined.

"Understand, I'm not complaining, but wouldn't you feel like a rest after that?" he queried, slumping lethargically into a soft divan.

Near Billy was a framed picture of Jimmy Smith.

"Who's the good-looking gent?" someone twitted him.

"Oh, don't you know him?" Conn smiled, wryly. "That's the champion of Pittsburgh. He claims he licked me, so that makes him the Pittsburgh champ."

HIT NO. 3,000 FOR PAUL WANER

Boston, June 20 (AP)—Baseball's hall of fame beckoned today to Paul Glee Waner, the little man with big stuff, but he purposely looked the other way (1) because you're got to be retired for that distinction and (2) because he has no intentions of quitting.

Waner highlighted a brilliant 17-year Major league career yesterday with his 3,000th hit—a fifth-inning single off former Pittsburgh teammate Truett Sewell—that placed the 39-year-old Boston Brave outfielder in mighty exclusive company.

Only six other players, all of them 20-year veterans, ever got 3,000 hits. And all of them since have been elected to baseball's hall of fame at Cooperstown, New York—Ty Cobb, 4,191; Tris Speaker, 3,515; Honus Wagner, 3,430; Eddie Collins, 3,313; Napoleon Lajoie, 3,242, and Adrian "Cap" Anson, 3,081.

But Big Poison Paul isn't ready to join them.

"No, I think I'll hang around awhile," the laconic little guy smiled.

Three times National league batting champion, holder of the league record of 200 or more hits for each of eight seasons and author of a lifetime batting average of .335, Waner was besieged by both teams—among them Pirate Manager Frankie Frisch, a long-time playing rival—after he reached first base. There were more handshakes than at a political rally as the umpires handed Waner the 3,000-hit ball.

Fumes Kill Mother, 26, And 9-Month-Old Baby

Mentorsville, Pa., June 20 (AP)—Accidental carbon monoxide poisoning was blamed Friday for the deaths of Mrs. Paul G. Burgard, 26, and her nine-month-old son by state policeman William G. Fink, who conducted an investigation with Lycoming county authorities.

The bodies of the mother and babe were found in the living room of the home. Burgard, unconscious, was slumped in a nearby chair. His condition today was termed satisfactory.

Investigating officers said Mrs. Burgard had been canning in the kitchen and that a kettle on the gas stove boiled over, causing gas to spread through the house.

The German labor situation has become particularly critical due to loss of men in battle and need for drawing replacements from the labor force, according to the Department of Commerce.

WALLAESA INDUCTED

Newark, N. J., June 20 (AP)—

The "shortstop of the American league" is all set to be just another back private.

Lanky, 21-year-old Jack Wallaesa, who won the title from his former boss, Connie Mack, was called for induction today after passing the Army's physical examination.

Wallaesa resigned from the Philadelphia Athletics several days ago to enlist at Philadelphia, N. J., across the Delaware river from his home town, Easton, Pa.

RIDGEMOOR PAR TAKES BEATING

By GAYLE TALBOT
Chicago, June 20 (AP)—United States Golf association officials, having seen one contestant round Ridgemoor in 62 and a dozen others turn in equally silly scores, are congratulating themselves for not recognizing the Hale America benefit tournament as the national open.

The last two days have been exciting in a way, and the birdies and eagles undoubtedly will continue through tomorrow, but the players themselves have been the first to insist it isn't related even faintly to championship golf.

The U.S.G.A. would have been mighty embarrassed if it had yielded to urging and run up its official flag.

Ridgemoor has proved far too easy for the top stars. Even Mike Turnesa, most phenomenal member of the golfing family at present, thought it funny when he scored a second round 66—six under par—to go with his 65 of the previous day.

"It's a little tough on Ben Hogan," he laughed. "He shoots a par 72 and then a 62 and I'm still leading him three strokes."

Hogan's 62 yesterday made Ridgemoor look like a pitch-and-putt layout. Ben, himself, conceded it wasn't his greatest golf. It was just a question of having 11 one-putt greens, he said.

As they started the third 18-hole round today, Mike Turnesa had three big strokes on Hogan and stood a good chance of hauling down first prize of $1,100. But he couldn't afford to slip to anywhere near par golf because the field still was close.

Tied with 36-hole totals of 135—a stroke behind Hogan—were two dangerous competitors, Horton Smith and Lawson Little.

At 136 were Jimmy Demaret and Herman Barron; at 137 Denny Shute, Otey Crisman and Mike Spilz; 138, Harold "Jug" McSpaden, Dick Metz, Johnny Dawson, Bill Dear and Wilford Wehrle. The last two amateurs; and at 139 were Byron Nelson, Ky Laffoon, Lloyd Mangrum and Buck White. Eight strokes off the dizzy pace.

HEAR YE HEAR YE

TOMORROW MORNING will witness the introduction in this town of Royale's Homogenized Vitamin D Milk, containing the Vitamin D concentrate, Vitex—"A Better Milk," speaking in terms of extra-nutrition. This is our rich pasteurized milk to which has been added the vitamin D, extracted from and the equivalent of 1¼ teaspoonfuls of U.S.P. Cod Liver Oil, without the oil itself.

In addition, the process of homogenization "breaks up" the original amount of cream content so that it is permanently distributed throughout the entire bottle of milk. Royale Homogenized milk, "cream in every drop," is more readily digested—tastes richer and encourages all in the family to drink more milk.

Every quart of our Royale Homogenized Vitamin D Milk contains 400 U.S.P. units of Vitamin D.

LEFTY SMITH IS UNLUCKY; LOST BALL BEATS HIM

By JUDSON BAILEY
Associated Press Sports Writer

The unluckiest man in baseball, by all odds, is Lefty Edgar Smith of the Chicago White Sox.

After he had lost ten games in a row without winning, the fat, good-natured southpaw star thought his tide had turned Sunday when he beat the Washington Senators. He figured he had hit bottom in the game lost 2-0 to the Philadelphia Athletics although allowing only two hits.

But Smithy learned last night that there are even tougher breaks: The Boston Red Sox beat him 1-0 on a home run when the ball stuck under the bull pen bench at Comiskey park.

Smith waged a magnificent hurling duel with Broadway Charley Wagner of the Red Sox, spacing seven hits to Wagner's six. The only difference between the two was that drive by Dominic DiMaggio which rolled out of sight under the bench and couldn't be found till DiMaggio was crossing the plate.

Smith had been beaten twice before 1-0, twice 2-0, once 4-3 and once, of course 2-0. Altogether he has lost six games by one run.

This dramatic mischance took some of the attention away from the New York Yankees fourth loss in five games; Paul Waner getting his 3,000th hit; the Brooklyn Dodgers downing the St. Louis Cardinals again, and other sprightly developments.

The Yanks were whipped 5-4 at Cleveland as the Veteran Mel Harder pitched four-hit ball, blanking all the Yanks except Bill Dickey (3 hits) and Phil Rizzuto who hit a two-run homer. The Indians were held to five hits by Lefty Gomez and John Murphy, but two of these hits were a homer and a triple by Oris Hockett.

John Niggeling pitched a four-hit shutout as the St. Louis Browns pelted the Philadelphia Athletics 4-0 with a 12-hit attack and Hal White hurled six-hit ball as the Detroit Tigers trimmed the Washington Senators 5-1.

The Dodgers boosted their National league lead to 6½ games by stopping St. Louis for the second straight time 4-3. Whitlow Wyatt annexing his seventh triumph against one defeat.

Brooklyn made eight hits, but took command of the game early when John Rizzo rifled a two-run homer off Lefty Ernie White in the second inning. In the third Pete Reiser stole home for the second time this season.

Waner's entry into a select group of six all-time stars who have made 3,000 hits—Cobb, Speaker, Wagner, Collins, Lajoie and Anson, all of them in baseball's hall of fame—proved just an incident in a thrilling 11-inning struggle which the Pittsburgh Pirates captured from the Boston Braves 7-6. Bob Elliott's second home run with two on in the 11th provided enough margin to withstand a two-run circuit clout by Nanny Fernandez in the last half of the inning.

Cincinnati subdued the Phils 6-4 on a three-run homer by Gee Walker, and the New York Giants beat the Chicago Cubs 6-5 after losing the first game of a doubleheader 7-4. The two games produced 49 hits, including five home runs.

Louis Makes Farewell Exhibition Appearance

Yaphank, N. Y., June 20 (AP)—A Brooklyn cop has proved that Uncle Sam's soldier outfit can do just as good a job of fight promotion as the next fellow.

Major Francis J. Quigley, who in civilian life headed the homicide squad in Flatbush, put on a card of seven all-service-men bouts out here at Camp Upton last night, headed by a three-rounder featuring Joe Louis, and liberally sprinkled with enough volunteer stage entertainment to start a couple of Broadway shows. And the whole thing went off as smoothly as a Mike Jacobs production in Madison Square Garden.

The fights themselves, except for a light-hitting three-round exhibition between welterweight contenders young Kid McCoy of Detroit and California Jackie Wilson, both of whom are privates here, were snappy punch-tossing affairs. Louis, making his farewell exhibition before leaving for Fort Riley, Kansas, had a small "mouse" raised under his right eye by sparmate George Nicholson's left jab in the first round of their get-together. In the second and third heats, George realized this was a mistake, because it made Joe angry and he started playing for keeps.

Louis wasn't to have appeared on the card, because the Army had ordered him to leave yesterday evening for Fort Riley, Kans., but the last minute this order was countermanded so that he could fulfill this engagement. And last night it was learned that the countermanding order came directly from President Roosevelt.

SPORTS ROUNDUP

By HUGH FULLERTON, JR.
Wide World Sports Columnist

New York, June 20 (AP)—Looks as if the Navy's new 48-hour limit on athletic tours would put a real crimp in the football schedules of those big pre-flight schools. . . . Georgia, for instance, could hardly hop to New England or the midwest, play a game and get home in time. . . . Auburn Jack Meagher, who is handling the schedules for the Georgia outfit and the Jacksonville and Pensacola fliers, may find his own toughening-up program right there. . . . Suggestion for an added event at tomorrow's A.A.U. track and field championships—throwing the program. It weighs about 1½ pounds on your bathroom scales and contains $75,000 worth of advertising. . . . Otey Crisman, one of the early leaders in the Hale America Golf tournament, won his place in the district qualifying by tossing a coin. No doubt the side with the birdie came up.

THE REAL DECOY

Jim Reed of the Burlington (Ia.) Hawk-Eye Gazette reports that his townsman, John A. But on investigation, Dehner found a wild wood duck and eight duckling hiding in the corner.

WALLAESA INDUCTED

Newark, N. J., June 20 (AP)—The "shortstop of the American league" is all set to be just another buck private. Lanky, 21-year-old Jack Wallaesa, who won the title from his former boss, Connie Mack, was called for induction today after passing the Army's physical examination. Wallaesa resigned several days ago to enlist at Philadelphia, N. J., across the Delaware river from his home town, Easton, Pa.

NEW PLAYERS SIGNED

At a meeting of managers of teams in the Community Softball league Friday evening at the fire engine house the following replacements were allowed in rosters: Moose—William Small, Earl Layton, J. Riggeal, Thomas, N. Buohl, M. Shindedecker and H. Runkle; Marquess—P. McGlaughlin and R. Little.

RIDGEMOOR PAR TAKES BEATING

By GAYLE TALBOT

Chicago, June 20 (AP)—United States Golf association officials, having seen one contestant round Ridgemoor in 62 and a dozen others turn in equally silly scores, are congratulating themselves for not recognizing the Hale America benefit tournament as the national open.

The last two days have been exciting in a way, and the birds and eagles undoubtedly will continue through tomorrow, but the players themselves have been the first to insist it isn't related even faintly to championship golf. The U.S.G.A. would have been mighty embarrassed if it had yielded to urging and run up its official flag.

Ridgemoor has proved far too easy for the top stars. Even Mike Turnesa, most phenomenal member of the golfing family at present, thought it funny when he scored a second round 66—six under par—to go with his 65 of the previous day. "It's a little tough on Ben Hogan," he laughed. "He shoots a par 72 and then a 62 and I'm still leading him three strokes."

Hogan's 62 yesterday made Ridgemoor look like a pitch-and-putt layout. Ben, himself, conceded it wasn't his greatest golf. It was just a question of having 11 one-putt greens, he said.

As they started the third 18-hole round today, Mike Turnesa had three big strokes on Hogan and stood a good chance of hauling down first prize of $1,100. But he couldn't afford to slip to anywhere near par golf because the field still was close.

Tied with 36-hole totals of 135—a stroke behind Hogan—were two dangerous competitors, Horton Smith and Lawson Little.

At 136 were Jimmy Demaret and Herman Barron; at 137 Denny Shute, Otey Crisman and Mike Sipula; 138, Harold "Jug" McSpaden, Dick Metz, Johnny Dawson, Bill Dear and Wilford Wehrle, the last two amateurs; and at 139 were Byron Nelson, Ky Laffoon, Lloyd Mangrum and Buck White, eight strokes off the dizzy pace.

TOMORROW MORNING will witness the introduction in this town of Royale's Homogenized Vitamin D Milk, containing the Vitamin D concentrate, Vitex—"A Better Milk," speaking in terms of extra-nutrition. This is our rich pasteurized milk to which has been added the vitamin D, extracted from and the equivalent of 1¼ teaspoonfuls of U.S.P. Cod Liver Oil, without the oil itself.

In addition, the process of homogenization "breaks up" the original amount of cream content so that it is permanently distributed throughout the entire bottle of milk. Royale Homogenized milk, "cream in every drop," is more readily digested—tastes richer and encourages all in the family to drink more milk.

Every quart of our Royale Homogenized Vitamin D Milk contains 400 U.S.P. units of Vitamin D.

Roosevelt And Churchill Mapping Counter-Blows To Axis Summer Drive

Washington, June 20 (AP)—President Roosevelt and Prime Minister Churchill were believed today to be mapping counter-blows to a desperate Axis summer offensive in Europe, Asia and Africa.

The White House continued the strict official silence imposed when the strategy conferences were announced Thursday night, but the official encouragement to speculate on the invasion of the European continent, the grave turn of the war in Africa and the rising fury of conflict on the eastern front indicated to many in the capital that decisions were being made in the knowledge that Berlin and Tokyo already were sending new forces toward a battle whose zero hour was drawing near.

The Allied high command, it was thought, would certainly have received advance intelligence of any tremendous German move in Europe.

Can't Conceal Movements
Observers pointed out that diplomatic sources in London had known of German troop movements for the Russian war several months before it started.

Any large-scale change in German dispositions now, it was said, could hardly have been concealed.

London reports that Prime Minister Churchill was seeking quick United States help in stabilizing the Mediterranean front were taken to indicate that the British believed a tremendous German drive against Suez was impending, if not already under way.

As for the Pacific, word from China that the Japanese were preparing a blow against Siberia was being taken with increasing seriousness.

The exploratory Japanese sallies against the Aleutians, it was said, might well have been made primarily to establish reconnaissance bases. These bases would be used to send word of any large-scale American convoys bearing aid for the Red armies in Siberia.

Observers assessing the world military situation saw American production slowly tipping the scales in any long range view of the war. They believed the Axis, therefore, would try for a quick victory.

Must Distribute Strength
The immediate task of the President and the Prime Minister was pictured as that of distributing available strength to meet Axis thrusts and developing Allied counter-drives. The Axis strategy was thought to follow these lines:

In Africa the Germans would try to exploit the breakthrough in the western desert with a smash into Egypt and toward the Suez canal. An attempt would be made to rush to this new battlefield the strong forces long immobilized in Italy and Greece.

This would involve the use of all available units of the Italian fleet under an umbrella of combat planes based on Italy, Crete and African coastal points wrested from the British.

In southeastern Europe there would be an all-out drive toward the Caucasus oil lands. It might be coupled with a push toward Suez from the North, either by way of Crete and Syria or through neutral Turkey. Any successful drive through Turkey also would flank Russian armies holding the Baku-Batum area.

Air Raids in U. S.?
From western Europe the Germans would unleash an intensified air-sea campaign against British and United States shipping. This might involve raids on England, a sea foray against Iceland by the battleship Tripoli and the new aircraft carrier Graf Zeppelin and Deutschland, and possibly diversionary air raids on Washington and New York.

The Germans are believed to have about 150 Heinkel 177's which could be used in such raids and British fighters have reported seeing mile-long runways in Norway from which they could take off. With 1,000 pounds of bombs, the Heinkel 177 is said to have a range of 7,000 miles, enough for land-based attacks on the New York-Washington area.

The Japanese, under a co-ordinated attack strategy, would strike at the Red Siberian armies in time with Nazi assaults in Europe.

CAUGHT
Reading, Pa., June 20 (AP)—Captured after a 24-hour manhunt, Stanley Putschuk, 25-year-old Shamokin, Pa., convict, was back in his cell today in Berks county prison, from which he escaped Thursday. State motor police caught him yesterday near Summit Station, Schuylkill county. Bloodhounds and an airplane had been used earlier in the search. Putschuk is awaiting sentence on charges of burglary, larceny and malicious mischief.

SCRAPPED
Philadelphia, June 20 (AP)—One of the oldest railroad rights-of-way in the nation is being stripped of rails to aid the war effort. The Office of War Information says the two-mile-long Avondale branch of the Baltimore and Ohio railroad, idle six years, will yield enough scrap to build 25 medium tanks. The original deed on the right-of-way was issued by William Penn, the OWI says, and the first rails were wooden.

Allied Headquarters, Australia, June 20 (AP)—A strong force of Allied bombers scored three direct hits yesterday on a 10,000-ton Japanese transport and probably damaged other ships in the harbor at Rabaul, New Britain, Gen. Douglas MacArthur's headquarters announced today.

London, June 20 (AP)—Hundreds of RAF fighter planes renewed their heavy assaults on the German-occupied coast of France today.

WAR BOARD TO SEEK STATE AID FOR FARM LABOR

range for a conference at Harrisburg early next week included Harrison F. Snyder, chairman of the county War Board; Robert Myers, chairman of the board's farm labor committee; County Agent M. T. Hartman, Richard C. Lighter, vocational agriculture adviser in Adams county; John W. Lucas, an officer of the county board of school directors; Marjory C. Little, assistant county superintendent of schools; Assemblyman George L. Baugher, member of a special "steering" committee in the farm labor group; and Wirt Winebrenner, state coordinator for the canning industry and also a member of the general committee on farm labor here.

Get Wage Report
Friday evening's action was along the same lines as that taken Thursday evening at the June meeting of the Adams county fruit growers when a committee was directed to take to Harrisburg the labor problems of the fruit grower.

At Friday evening's session the War Board received a report of one instance in which wages of high school boys working in a county orchard had been cut from the rate at which they had been employed. With only limited information on hand, the board directed that an investigation be made of the circumstances surrounding the case.

Board members emphasized that they have received numerous reports of instances in which high school boys and girls are working in county orchards and on farms with results that are entirely satisfactory to both the youths and the employers.

The board pointed out the importance of giving the boys and girls who are untrained in farm and orchard work the proper amount of training and supervision until they learn how to perform satisfactorily the duties expected of them.

Chairman Snyder presided at the meeting Friday evening which was held in the Farm Bureau building.

SWIMMERS STOP BOAT
Pittsburgh, June 20 (AP)—A U. S. Coast Guard officer reported today that swimmers and operators of pleasure craft are slowing up delivery of war materials by getting in the way of towboats pushing barges in the Allegheny, Monongahela and Ohio rivers. Some towboats have been forced to stop and wait until the channel of the rivers is cleared.

Ensign J. S. Sorrell, of the Coast Guard warned that "unless an immediate improvement in this situation is evidenced, violators will be arrested and prosecuted."

INDEPENDENTS ORGANIZE

Pittsburgh, June 20 (AP)—Steps are being taken to form a national federation of independent unions for electric power company employees, George L. Mueller of Pittsburgh, a leader in the movement, said today. Mueller, president of the Independent Association of Duquesne Light Company employees, said an organization meeting would be held next month, probably in Washington. He expected 15 unions with a claimed membership of 100,000 would be represented at the meeting.

that must be carried to the end of the war.

Bernard Little (above) served six months as a salesman in The Gettysburg Times War Savings stamp campaign until he had secured employment in an agricultural defense position. While selling the stamps he earned all the emblems and the Merit of Award offered by the Treasury department. Bernard is the son of Mr. and Mrs. William Little, South Washington street.

Secretary Henry Morganthau, Jr., sent a personal letter to all daily newspapers participating which said: "We at the Treasury department are proud of the newspaper boys who have started a new kind of newspaper service in this country. They are selling more than 12,000,000 War Savings Stamps every week for a total of well over a million dollars every seven days. The latest reports show that 883 newspapers in 47 states and Hawaii already have sold over $30,773,791.20 worth of United States War Savings Stamps and Bonds. The sole reward these young Americans get is the satisfaction of doing a man-sized job in the war program."

Another new carrier boy for The Gettysburg Times was inducted officially in The Times family as one of the agents for the Treasury department. He is William Sperry, son of Mrs. Ida Harlow Sperry, Carlisle street. He has made a fine start for the week with 400 stamps.

'HONOR THY SON' SLOGAN FOR '42 FATHER'S DAY

Spokane, Wash., June 20 (AP)—Father's Day, which gained its impetus during one war, enters another with its founder suggesting a special slogan for 1942—"Honor Thy Son."

"War time censorship and soldiers' pay limits the letters and the gifts a warrior son may send his father, but there is no limit or restriction to the words a proud dad can send his boy," Mrs. John Bruce Dodd, who established Father's Day in 1910, observed today.

"Every father's son in the Army, Navy or Marines is hungry for news from home, and he will be thinking especially of father tomorrow. What could be a better way for dad to show his pride and affection than to dedicate his own day to the boy in uniform?"

"Write the boy a letter, a long letter, full of news about yourself and all the family and all the neighbors."

The selflessness of Mrs. Dodd's own father, William Jackson Smart, led to the founding of a day dedicated to all dads.

"Her mother died during the Spanish-American war, leaving Smart with six small children. Strict but gentle, he played the role of both mother and father through the years until his boys and girls were grown and married."

Father's Day was a joke to the nation until the first World War brought a new perspective. The doughboy in France missed his dad. When the third Sunday in June approached, the soldiers remembered someone had called it Father's Day.

NEED ACTION

The Butler township petition, which was acted on favorably by the county board, asked for a new 60-passenger bus to replace an old bus that is "too small and inefficient." It refers to the vehicle operated by Funt and listed by Private Dunham as not meeting specifications.

The directors approved, signed and ordered forwarded to Harrisburg the new school budgets for the following districts: Highland, Mt. Joy, Oxford, Franklin, Union, Reading, Tyrone, Biglerville, McSherrytown, Arendtsville vocational, Arendtsville borough, Menallen, Huntingdon, Fairfield, Freedom, New Oxford, Germany and Berwick.

Friday evening's meeting was the last regular session for two members of the board—Secretary Willis H. Lady, Biglerville, and Second Vice President John W. Lucabaugh, Berwick township.

Mr. Lady ends a four-year term on the board on July 6, the beginning of the new school year. He has served as the board's secretary ever since it was formed four years ago. Mr. Lucabaugh, a former president of the county board, served out three years of the unexpired term of the late Roy M. Raffensperger, the county board's first president.

Their places will be taken on the board by Zeal Peters of Tyrone township and Luther Jacobs of Highland township.

FIREMEN ELECT

Pen Argyl, Pa., June 20 (AP)—The Four-County Firemen's Association of Pennsylvania elected Charles B. Hartman of Tannersville as its president and chose Tannersville for its 1943 convention. Other officers named: John Huffart, Allentown, president emeritus; Russell Dietz, Bethlehem, first vice president; Robert Hartman, East Stroudsburg, second vice president; Warren P. Keck, Allentown, third vice president; Victor Ardie, Mauch Chunk, fourth vice president; J. A. Everett, Stroudsburg, secretary; Dr. William Neumiller, Lansford, treasurer, and the Rev. R. H. Krauss, Hellertown, chaplain.

DROWNS IN HOUSE

Point Marion, Pa., June 20 (AP)—Two-year-old Sarah Watson of Niles Hill drowned when she fell head first into a crock filled with water at her home yesterday. A brother who witnessed the accident tried to pull Sarah out, then ran to his mother and cried: "Come quick, mummy, sister's getting her clothes wet!"

ATTENDS FUNERAL

C. S. Baltzley, Orrtanna R. D., instead of Mr. and Mrs. C. S. Baltzley, as previously stated, attended the funeral of Mrs. Elizabeth Henze in York Thursday.

Today's Talk
By George Matthew Adams

FEELING

Feeling is the most precious treasure that a human being can possess.
It creates the masterpiece, whether in art, music, or literature. It holds the rapt attention of the massed audience, through words uttered by the orator.

There are familiar songs that never grow old—because someone put his heart and soul and feeling into them—"Home Sweet Home,"
"Old Black Joe," "My Old Kentucky Home," "Home on the Range," and any number of religious songs that we heard and learned in our childhood. And there are great paintings that will live so long as they can be preserved on canvas—for the portrait of the artist, as well, is there.

What is it that compels us to go right through to the last page of some books—while others grip us not at all, and so are soon cast aside?
I will tell you—it is feeling that the author had.

Isn't the mere handling of words that brings about the enduring literary piece. Edward R.
Everett, who was the main speaker at the Gettysburg dedication was one of the most scholarly and finished rhetoricians of his day. Yet, who can recall what he said, whereas the brief speech of Abraham Lincoln has become a world classic!

Over fifty years ago an interesting editorial appeared in the New York Sun entitled: "Words That Laugh and Cry," and I quote its last paragraph on Lincoln's speech: "It isn't the way the words are strung together that makes Lincoln's Gettysburg speech immortal, but the feelings that were in the man. But how do such little, plain words manage to keep their grip on such feelings? That is the miracle."

Great writing is that which the author felt, or suffered, to express.
I read some things and am sure that tears bathed the original manuscript! It is to such writing that we return again and again. No one but a Rupert Brooke could have written "The Soldier," or Lieutenant-Colonel John McCrae "In Flanders Field." Each poem came from a soldier's heart—unafraid in the face of death.

Put feeling into whatever you do—and you need have no worry as to what the result will be. It will picture you!

Just Folks

NOT AN EXECUTIVE
I would gladly do the hiring,
But I'd hate to do the firing.

As my friends I'd try to hold them.
I could praise, but couldn't scold them.

Should I see production slowing,
I could never shout: "Get Going!"

I'd raise wages when I shouldn't;
Plan to cut them down? I couldn't.

Well, I know my limitation,
Hence my choice of occupation.

Men? I'd rather understand them
Then from day to day command them.

Rather pain and trouble spare them
Then to crack a whip and scare them.

Profits made? I'd never show it.
I'm no boss, and well I know it!

9 Ship Sinkings Reported In Day; American Water Toll 286

CUBA OFFERS FACILITIES TO AID SUB FIGHT

[By The Associated Press]

The nation looked hopefully toward Cuba as a new anti-submarine springboard today after a dark day that brought announcements of nine sinkings in Atlantic and adjacent waters.

The official toll of cargo carriers
in the western Atlantic since Pearl Harbor mounted to 286.

The State department in Washington announced an agreement had been reached by which Cuba "offered facilities to the United States War department for training aviation personnel and for operations against enemy undersea craft. Work on these installations will begin at once."

3 Are U. S. Ships
The latest U-boat victims were three United States ships, two Dutch, one Norwegian, one Canadian, one Dominican and one Panamanian.

In the case of the Dominican schooner La Nueva Altargarcia, the submarine captured the entire crew after the sinking. The prisoners later were turned over to the Dominican sloop Comercio, which was forced to jettison its cargo and warned to discontinue sailings.

Six men were lost from one of the American vessels, which went to the bottom in 20 minutes after two torpedo hits June 10. After drifting in lifeboats 12 hours, 38 of the crew reached port.

The second United States ship was shelled until she sank, 31 survivors reported. Eight crewmen from the third United States vessel made port.

Big Raider
Survivors of the Panamanian ship
said the craft was sunk by a raider
"so big it looked like the Queen Mary." Five of 60 persons aboard were missing.

Two German submarines torpedoed the 1,400-ton Dutch freighter Flora off the Colombian coast with a reported toll of the one dead and 36 saved.

Survivors of the Norwegian Lessen and the Canadian Welland were aboard the Dutch merchantman Crinjeen when it was sunk in the Caribbean June 10, reports from Yucatan disclosed. Of the 27 passengers and 70 crewmen aboard
the Dutch craft, only 33 were rescued.

Margaret (3), the daughter of Daniel (2) and Elisabeth (Heider) Snyder, married John Bigham and she is the only member of the family who left descendants living in this locality. Her brother, Jackson Andrew (3) Snyder, was married to Mary, the daughter of Christian Musselman, and his posthumous daughter, Lizzie, born July 25, 1864, died quite young. The grave of this child is to be found in the Union economics.

Miss Areta Graver, of Goshen, Indiana, has been spending some time with Mr. and Mrs. Arthur Roth
R. D.

Miss Winifred Naugle and Mrs.
Viola Carbaugh have returned from a visit with friends in Hanover.

Lorraine Biesecker, of Camp Hill, spent Sunday with Mrs. Susie Biesecker.

Mr. and Mrs. Calvin Biesecker, of Hanover, spent the week-end with Mr. Biesecker's parents, Mr. and Mrs. I. O. Biesecker.

Mr. and Mrs. W. D. Dougherty accompanied their daughter, Mrs.
Russell Gardner, of York Springs, to Cheesville where they recently visited the Dougherty's son-in-law and daughter, Mr. and Mrs. George Myers.

Miss Glenda Myers has returned to her home at Cheesville after a visit with her grandparents, Mr. and Mrs. W. D. Dougherty. Jimmy Myers, also of Cheesville, is spending some time with the Dougherty's, his grandparents.

Mr. and Mrs. Blair Biesecker and son, Johnny, and daughter, Betty, spent Sunday at Hershey. Betty is spending the week with friends at Palmyra.

Kermit Wetzel returned to Baltimore Thursday evening, having been called home due to the death of his aunt, Mrs. Elizabeth Henze.

The peaceful virtues love to dwell,
Jackson Andrew (3) Snyder and his wife lived in the "upper house" on his father's farm. He remained there through the illness, death and burial of his father and brother, doubtless at the insistence of Doctor Scott. Not so long afterwards, however, he came to within calling distance of the house and asked to see the family Bible. His mother, or some other member of the family, took the Book to the orchard and after it had lain open in the sun and air for some time, the young man came to the orchard, sat down and began to leaf through it. While he was thus engaged Henry Rees, who had cared for his father and brother during their illness because he had had the disease and recovered, came and stood behind him looking over his shoulder. Not so long afterwards the inevitable happened—Jackson Andrew (3) Snyder became ill with the small-pox. He died not quite a month later and lies buried in the Snyder graveyard.

MONDAY AND TUESDAY

After months of painstaking preparation and research, Alexander Korda has transferred to the screen
the thrilling adventure classic, Rudyard Kipling's "Jungle Book," which was filmed in magnificent Technicolor and stars Sabu in the roll of Mowgli, a creature that is half-boy and half-wolf. Kipling's "Jungle Book" was directed by Zoltan Korda and is slated for the Majestic theatre on Monday and Tuesday through United Artists release.

WEDNESDAY

Based on Clarence Budington
Kelland's vivid story of the Old Southwest shortly after the Civil War, "Valley of the Sun" stars Lucille Ball and James Craig at the head of a notable cast in a picturesque tale of romance and adventure.

The picture will be at the Majestic
Wednesday.

James Craig the scout, in trouble with Army authorities because of his sympathy for the Apaches, meets the restaurant girl Lucille Ball and,
with the aid of a British remita-nce man and an old desert character, endeavors to keep her from marrying Sawyer, a crooked Indian agent.

THURSDAY

All set to keep moviegoers laughin'
with their lovin' are Henry Fonda and Gene Tierney who breeze into the Majestic Theatre on Thursday in 20th Century-Fox's madcap comedy, "Rings On Her Fingers."

The event may be set down as an historic one, since glamorous Gene Tierney makes her initial appearance in a youthful, modern role which requires her to go to town in the latest fashions. Up to the present time Gene has specialized in costume roles. Henry Fonda again repeats in a gay comedy role which had the previewers holding their sides with laughter.

FRIDAY AND SATURDAY

There's a memorable experience in store for you at the Majestic Theatre, Friday and Saturday, where Bette Davis will be at her superb best in the starring role of Warner Bros.' dramatic film, "In This Our Life."

The film is adapted from one of last season's leading best-sellers by Ellen Glasgow. The dramatic essence of the book is immeasurably heightened by the brilliant performances of Miss Davis, Olivia de Havilland, George Brent and Dennis Morgan, who are aided by an outstand-ingly fine supporting cast.

TO ATTEND INSTITUTE

Miss Dorothy Warner, special education supervisor in Adams county, will go to Pennsylvania State College on Monday to attend an institute on professional training for clinical psychologists. The sessions will continue throughout the week.

IN MEMORIAM

IN MEMORIAM
In loving remembrance of our dear father and husband, Joseph I. Thomas who passed away so suddenly three years ago.

With the passing of the years, Thoughts of you have kept you near.

Though you have gone to your rest Our hearts still ache within our breast.

You fought life's battle bravely, And patiently stood the test, You will always be remembered, Because you were one of the best.

Perhaps we shouldn't weep and sigh, When our precious loved ones die, But you know the Bible has said, That Jesus wept over the dead.

HEELS FOR HEELS

Pittsburgh, June 20 (AP)—Albert Davis got a little extra pleasure out of his contribution to the scrap rubber drive. He mounted a pair of worn-out rubber heels on a piece of cardboard, pasted pictures of Hitler and Mussolini on them, and wrote on the cardboard: "A couple of heels—just about gone."

Chairmen Listed

The chairmen of the various community committees working under the county-wide scrap organization include:

Elmer H. Schriver, Gettysburg; Cecil Snyder, Biglerville; C. A. Smith, Arendtsville; M. E. Webb, East Berlin; J. L. Kratzert, New Oxford; Mr. Coulson, York Springs; Irving Rebert, Littlestown; and Norman Miller, Abbottstown.

Colley S. Baker, executive secretary for Pennsylvania's salvage organization under the War Production board, has informed county chairmen that it is estimated that from two to three years' supply of rubber is available in scrap throughout the nation. Mr. Baker added that it is the purpose of this drive to bring out this badly needed scrap rubber and to provide immediate factual data on the amount of reclaimable rubber available.

Littlestown Example

An example of what can be accomplished in salvage activities was given the county by the Littlestown committee in the recent "Salvage Week" campaign. During that week, according to E. A. Rebert, chairman of the Littlestown group, the southern Adams county borough turned in 32,160 pounds of metal scrap; 20,000 pounds of paper, and seven tons of other scrap. The Boy Scouts and the school children aided in the collection.

This is the kind of work, Mr. Benson said, that is needed from all patriotic citizens. It is the duty of everyone, he emphasized, to enter into the rubber collection and help meet the challenge that was issued by President Roosevelt when he launched the idea.

Boy Scouts of Gettysburg are planning a special collection of scrap rubber next Tuesday afternoon.

"EMPTY TRIP" TRUCK RULING FACES CHANGE

Harrisburg, June 20 (AP)—Coal truckers attending the Pennsylvania Motor Truck Association convention were told that federal officials will consider revising a regulation which would prohibit trucks from making empty return trips after July 1.

H. S. Shertz, counsel for the association, said re-consideration is planned because of the necessity for delivering coal from Pennsylvania to consumers in New York, Philadelphia, New Jersey and Maryland. Truckers have said they would be unable to obtain return loads. The ban was ordered by the Office of Defense Transportation.

Earlier, the state trucking regulations, recently under fire in Maryland, were called "the nation's No. 1 transportation bottleneck" by Edward Gogolin, association's general manager.

As Gogolin told delegates that Pennsylvania "remains right in the cellar as far as truck weights in the east are concerned," Governor James defended the state's top load limit of 40,000 pounds and warned that it was being enforced.

Gogolin declared: "Confusing statements have been issued intimating that the Office of Defense Transportation has fixed 40,000 pounds as the truck load limit in Pennsylvania. The governors of all states have agreed to observe 40,000 pounds as the 'floor' or minimum below which no state should fix truck weights, in the interest of speedy and efficient transportation of war materials."

"Treasure" hunts are suggested by the Department of Commerce as a means of collecting rubber and other needed scrap.

Today's Talk

By George Matthew Adams

FEELING

Feeling is the most precious treasure that a human being can possess. It creates the masterpiece, whether in art, music, or literature. It holds the rapt attention of the massed audience, through words uttered by the orator.

There are familiar songs that never grow old—because someone put his heart and soul and feeling into them—"Home Sweet Home," "Old Black Joe," "My Old Kentucky Home," "Home on the Range," and any number of religious songs that we heard and learned in our childhood. And there are great paintings that will live so long as they can be preserved on canvas—for the portrait of the artist, as well, is there.

What is it that compels us to go right through to the last page of some books—while others grip us not at all, and so are soon cast aside? I will tell you—it is feeling that the author had.

It isn't the mere handling of words that brings about the enduring literary piece. Edward Everett, who was the main speaker at the Gettysburg dedication was one of the most scholarly and finished rhetoricians of his day. Yet, who can recall what he said, whereas the brief speech of Abraham Lincoln has become a world classic!

Over fifty years ago an interesting editorial appeared in the New York Sun entitled: "Words That Laugh and Cry," and I quote its last paragraph on Lincoln's speech: "It isn't the way the words are strung together that makes Lincoln's Gettysburg speech immortal, but the feelings that were in the man. But how do such little, plain words manage to keep their grip on such feelings? That is the miracle."

Great writing is that which the author felt, or suffered, to express. I read some things and am sure that tears bathed the original manuscript! It is to such writing that we return again and again. No one but a Rupert Brooke could have written "The Soldier," or Lieutenant Colonel John McCrae "In Flanders Field." Each poem came from a soldier's heart—unafraid in the face of death.

Put feeling into whatever you do—and you need have no worry as to what the result will be. It will picture you!

Just Folks

NOT AN EXECUTIVE
I would gladly do the hiring,
But I'd hate to do the firing.As my friends I'd try to hold them.
I could praise, but couldn't scold them.Should I see production slowing,
I could never shout: "Get Going!"I'd raise wages when I shouldn't,
Plan to cut them down? I couldn't.Well, I know my limitation.
Hence my choice of occupation.Men? I'd rather understand them
Then from day to day command them.Rather pain and trouble spare them
Than to crack a whip and scare them.Profits made? I'd never show it.
I'm no boss, and well I know it!

CUBA OFFERS FACILITIES TO AID SUB FIGHT

[By The Associated Press]

The nation looked hopefully toward Cuba as a new anti-submarine springboard today after a dark day that brought announcements of nine sinkings in Atlantic and adjacent waters.

The official toll of cargo carriers in the western Atlantic since Pearl Harbor mounted to 266.

The State department in Washington announced an agreement had been reached by which Cuba "of fered facilities to the United States War department for training aviation personnel and for operations against enemy undersea craft. Work on these installations will begin at once."

3 Are U. S. Ships
The latest U-boat victims were three United States ships, two Dutch, one Norwegian, one Canadian, one Dominican and one Panamanian.

In the case of the Dominican schooner La Nueva Altagracia, the submarine captured the entire crew after the sinking. The prisoners later were turned over to the Dominican sloop Comercio, which was forced to jettison its cargo and warned to discontinue sailings.

Six men were lost from one of the American vessels, which went to the bottom in 20 minutes after two torpedos hit June 10. After drifting in lifeboats 12 hours, 38 of the crew reached port.

The second United States ship was shelled until she sank, 31 survivors reported. Eight crewmen from the third United States vessel made port.

Big Raider
Survivors of the Panamanian ship said the craft was sunk by a raider "so big it looked like the Queen Mary." Five of 60 persons aboard were missing.

Two German submarines torpedoed the 1,600-ton Dutch freighter Flora off the Colombian coast with a reported toll of the one dead and 36 saved.

Survivors of the Norwegian Lesser and the Canadian Welland were aboard the Dutch merchantman Crinissen when it was sunk in the Caribbean June 10, reports from Yucatan disclosed. Of the 27 passengers and 70 crewmen aboard the Dutch craft, only 33 were rescued.

No. 245—The Daniel Snyder Family

LAST week the first column in a series on the family or private graveyards in Adams county appeared under the title of "The Old Snyder Graveyard" and today the notes on the Snyder family and burial plot are continued.

Beside the grave of Elisabeth, the first wife of Abraham (1) Snyder, there is another grave marked by a slate stone very similar to the one beside it. It is impossible to decipher the inscription. However, according to a member of the family who is in a position to know, this tombstone marks the grave of Catharine (2) Snyder, the daughter of Abraham (1) and Elisabeth (Smith) Snyder. This woman became the wife of Abraham Hoke and she died not so many years after her mother.

When the children of Daniel (2) and Elisabeth (Heidler) were listed last week, two who died in infancy were not included. They are as follows:

6. Martin (3) Snyder—born and died in 1836. Buried in an unmarked grave in the Snyder cemetery.

7. Lizzie (3) Snyder—died in infancy. Buried in an unmarked grave in the Snyder cemetery.

Margaret (3), the daughter of Daniel (2) and Elisabeth (Heidler) Snyder, married John Bigham and she is the only member of the family who left descendants living in this locality. Her brother, Jackson Andrew (3) Snyder, was married to Mary, the daughter of Christian Musselman, and his posthumous daughter, Lizzie, born July 25, 1864, died quite young. The grave of this child as to be found in the Union cemetery at Fairfield, Pennsylvania.

Elisabeth, the wife of Daniel (2) Snyder, had a sister, Susan Heidler, who was twice married. Her first husband was —? Low, and after his death she was married to —? Reibs. This woman lived in Maryland with her husband and family but her son by her first marriage, William Low, made his home with his uncle and aunt, Daniel (2) Snyder and his wife. In March or April of 1864 this William Low received word that his mother was ill. Naturally he wanted to see her so shortly afterwards he left to visit her. Although he did not know it his mother was ill of the small-pox. Evidently the attack was only a light one for she recovered and her son returned to the home of his relatives in Pennsylvania. He was ill when he arrived and shortly afterwards Daniel (2) Snyder also became sick. As soon as the doctor arrived he knew just what was the matter. William Low had contracted Orttanna—Miss Mary Shank, of Goshen, Indiana, has arrived to spend the summer with Mr. and Mrs. Howard Musselman.

Orttanna

Miss Lois Musselman has returned from Goshen college, Goshen, Indiana, from which college she graduated this year. She majored in home economics.

Miss Areta Graver, of Goshen, Indiana, has been spending some time with Mr. and Mrs. Arthur Roth, R. D.

Miss Winifred Naugle and Mrs. Viola Carbaugh have returned from a visit with friends in Hanover.

Lorraine Biesecker, of Camp Hill, spent Sunday with Mrs. Susie Biesecker.

Mrs. Victor Sanders and children, Dorothy and Calvin, of Hagerstown, spent the week-end with relatives here.

Mr. and Mrs. Calvin Biesecker, of Hanover, spent the week-end with Mr. Biesecker's parents, Mr. and Mrs. I. O. Biesecker.

Mr. and Mrs. W. D. Dougherty accompanied their daughter, Mrs. Russell Gardner, of York Springs, to Cheversville where they recently visited the Dougherty's son-in-law and daughter, Mr. and Mrs. George Myers.

Miss Glenda Myers has returned to her home at Cheversville after a visit with her grandparents, Mr. and Mrs. W. D. Dougherty. Jimmy Myers, also of Cheversville, is spending some time with the Dougherty's, his grandparents.

Mr. and Mrs. Blair Biesecker and son, Johnny, and daughter, Betty, spent Sunday at Hershey. Betty is spending the week with friends at Palmyra.

Kermit Wetzel returned to Baltimore Thursday evening, having been called home due to the death of his aunt, Mrs. Elizabeth Henze.

Mummasburg

Mummasburg—Mrs. Cora Boyd, of Chambersburg, is spending the week at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Quinlin Dearthoff.

Sunday visitors at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Samuel Shindielecker were Mr. and Mrs. Clyde Sloat and son, Clyde. Alice Elker, Mr. and Mrs. James Smiley and granddaughter Margaret, all of Waynesboro.

Mr. and Mrs. Harry Harmon and son, Ronald, Mrs. Leatherman, Mrs. Junior Cullison and children, Percy Ann and Kenneth, motored to Baltimore on Monday where Mr. Harmon goes to the Johns Hopkins hospital for treatment every two weeks.

The picture will be at the Majestic Wednesday.

James Craig the scout, in trouble with Army authorities because of his sympathy for the Apache, meets the restaurant girl Lucille Ball and, with the aid of a British renegade, endeavors to keep her from marrying Sawyer, a crooked Indian agent.

The event may be set down as an historic one, since glamorous Gene Tierney makes her initial appearance in a youthful, modern role which requires her to go to town in the latest fashions. Up to the present time Gene has specialized in costume roles. Henry Fonda again repeats in a gay comedy role which had the previewers holding their sides with laughter.

FRIDAY AND SATURDAY

There's a memorable experience in store for you at the Majestic Theatre, Friday and Saturday, where Bette Davis will be at her superb best in the starring role of Warner Bros. dramatic film, "In This Our Life."

The film is adapted from one of last season's leading best-sellers by Ellen Glasgow. The dramatic essence of the book is dramatically heightened by the brilliant performances of Miss Davis, Olivia de Havilland, George Brent and Dennis Morgan, who are aided by an outstandingly fine supporting cast.

TO ATTEND INSTITUTE
Miss Dorothy Warner, special education supervisor in Adams county, will go to Pennsylvania State College on Monday to attend an institute on professional training for clinical psychologists. The sessions will continue throughout the week."Daniel Snyder

MONDAY AND TUESDAY

After months of painstaking preparation and research, Alexander Korda has transferred to the screen the thrilling adventure classic, Rudyard Kipling's "Jungle Book," which was filmed in magnificent Technicolor and stars Sabu in the role of Mowgli, a creature that is half-boy and half-wolf.

"Jungle Book" was directed by Zoltan Korda and is slated for the Majestic theatre on Monday and Tuesday through United Artists release.

WEDNESDAY

Based on Clarence Budington Kelland's vivid story of the Old Southwest shortly after the Civil War, "Valley of the Sun" stars Lucille Ball and James Craig at the head of a notable cast in a picturesque tale of romance and adventure.

The picture will be at the Majestic Wednesday.

East Berlin

East Berlin—At the close of the school year at the East Berlin public school and high school these boys received varsity letters for athletics: Richard Resser, Charles Eisenhart, Jack Shetter, Martin L. Allenman, William F. Hoover, Dewey Byers, Elwood Allenman, George Oberlander, George Geesey, Donald R. Moul, David Eoke, Warren Frey, and John Barton. Girls receiving athletic awards were: Betty J. Butt, Dorothy M. Leas, Ruth Wehler, Evelyn Bywaters, Mary Adamson, Ruth Zeigler, Jean Spangler, Winifred Krall and Ruthanna Baker.

Outstanding commercial work awards went to: Evelyn Anderson, Betty J. Butt, Margaret C. Group, Jean E. Haverstock, Dorothy M. Leas, Helen E. Smith, and Julia Dickey. Otis Livingston, Jr., president of the F. P. A. was given a sterling ring for being judged the most outstanding member of this group. Clair Bassett of the same club received recognition for having sold the greatest number of seeds in their garden seed project and also in past eradication. In the last contest, John Aldand also received a prize.

The awards were given by teachers of the various branches of the first annual promotion field, and award day at the school. In the last athletic meet held the same day, there were track events for the students, a game of softball in which lightweight boys defeated the girls, and a final tug-of-war in which the senior boys defeated the junior group, having first hauled them through a stream of water on the premises of the school in the presence of a large assemblage of visitors.

Among ministers of the Church of the Brethren who have been attending the annual conference of their church at Asheville, North Carolina, for the past two weeks are the Rev. J. Monroe Danner of the Upper Conewago congregation, and the Rev. C. W. Harlacher, elder of the Berthoud Church of the Brethren, near town.

WOMEN BETTER THAN MEN IN MANY WAR JOBS

Harrisburg, June 20—(AP)—"The Little Woman" in overalls is making the performance of the man she replaced look bad in many humming war factories.

"Industries, reluctant as they are to switch to women workers, are fast learning they can earn more money than when men were doing piece work, for example," asserted Mrs. Marj R. Morrow, Women's Bureau chief in the department of Labor and Industry.

Mrs. Morrow said "many thousands" are in labor's hair pin ranks, with a majority of them swinging heavy jobs which tradition held were men's work.

"I don't suppose we had 15 women handling welding jobs before 1939," she commented. "And now we have thousands doing every welding job with the exception of arc work."

At the Army's request, the bureau allowed women to do machine spot, shot and gas welding but it refused to approve women doing arc welding. Other tough jobs being done by the former housewives, clerks and stenographers include bench, machine and radio tube work.

In airplane factories and other war industries, women are doing heavy and skilled work on drills, lathes, turbines, punch presses, milling machines, power saws and wiring. Some are even doing police duty.

Brazil is the only country on the American continent which has produced silk on a commercial scale over a comparatively long period, the Department of Commerce reports.

Coil May Follow Points

What happens to one part of a car usually is a good clue to what may happen to another, but motorists who have to replace burned breaker points seldom take the hint. High voltage not only damages points but burns coils as well. So when the points go bad better seek the cause of the situation and not merely conclude that the points themselves were defective or of poor quality. Voltage sometimes goes as high as 10 volts.

More About Plugs

In these columns I previously pointed out that as an engine ages it is likely to run hotter and thus may need a different type of spark plug. A plug with a shorter insulator—known as a cooler plug—will dissipate this excess heat quicker. So far so good. But I want to add a proviso. Some engines are over-cooled, so that even as they age they still manage to avoid overheating. In such cases we may need to use a hotter plug because of the fact that compression is certain to drop with age. A third point to consider is that if the engine is treated to a ring or reconditioning job there will be a return to normal compression which, combined with a tendency toward overheating may call for use of a cooler type of plug. Many conditions, and so we must consider many ways of meeting them.

Tells About Bearings

Whether the front wheel bearings are in good shape can be decided from inspection of the lube in the hub cap. After the fancy cap is removed pry off the small cap over the axle end and see if there is plenty of wheel bearing grease here. If the bearings have been heated there won't be any clean, unused grease. Rather the removed cap will show the remaining grease to be both dirty and thinned out.

One Waste You Save

Maybe you have already noticed that since driving at a more economical speed the shift lever on your car has less tendency to slip back to neutral position. This is because there is a marked reduction in rear-end chatter when the car is going down a roughly paved hill. Get the rear end shaking with the engine bobbing around in its flexible mounting, and the transmission locking device is overtaxed. The gears slip out and you have the consequent waste of slowing down, speeding up the engine and shifting back into gear.

Mechanic Joe Speaking:

"I try to do as many things about a car without the aid of tools as possible. This encourages me to use my head, and I manage to save a lot of time and money for customers as a result.

and tear on the engine. This is particularly true of a lower range of pressure readings which simply means that the bearings are getting loose or worn and that they are less effective in restricting the flow of oil through the oiling system. If low oil pressure is due to insufficient oil or too light oil the engine will also indicate overheating. Where there is no such warning from the heat indicator the correct diagnosis of low pressure is that the bearings need replacing or that the oil pressure regulator spring is too weak.

Ping Due to Valves

Just because gas is now of lower octane rating don't assume that every ping is detonation. There are many other conditions which can cause mild knocking and one of the least considered of these is a warped valve. Where the edges of a valve's head do not seat evenly they may become overheated, thus preigniting the fuel by acting as an unwelcome spark plugs.

Overheats Two Ways

If the car's fan isn't working you might be able to get by without a bad case of overheating were it not for the possibility that the water pump may also be driven by the belt which drives the fan. Belt trouble today often causes overheating two ways, and that is serious. Don't even let the belt slip, because even if it doesn't operate the water pump it does run the generator. A belt should be just tight enough so that you can move the fan a little if you bear on one of its blades.

What's On Your Mind?

Q. Having installed tire and wheel locks on my car I am wondering if any special care is needed to keep them the protection they should be.—H. F.

A. I do not know what type of lock you have installed, but if it has tight fitting parts I suggest frequent oiling and cleaning, otherwise dirt and rust may present trouble in removing the wheel in event of tire trouble.

Q. Since installing light relays on my car I do not seem to get the improved lighting I expected. I followed wiring directions carefully. Lamps are new and the battery is in good shape.—T. S. S.

A. I wonder if you used too light wiring for the various connections. No. 10 gauge wiring is needed.

Q. Recently I put in a new voltage regulator. Shortly after this its cut-out points burned out. Can you tell me what caused this.—N. K.

A. The proper sequence of wiring in the regulator was not followed with the result that the generator's polarity was reversed. It is important to connect the wire to the "ground" terminal first, and the wire to the "F" terminal of the regulator last.

Not all hard starting in summer is due to the fuel being too much vaporized or the engine being over-choked by the impatient driver. Often starting difficulty is a direct result of the car's radio. The car's original equipment coil may have been weakened by resistances placed in the high tension circuit. There are replacement coils which will stand such resistance and keep starting up to par.

About Those Car Guards

I've had a lot of questions regarding these automatic guards which start the car's horns blowing whenever anyone tampers with it. A popular question is what happens if someone bumps the car as in parking. Well, the horns blow for about 15 seconds, then stop. The other fellow won't bump your car again after that evidence of his carelessness. Many ask, "Will the horns blow if the car has to be parked on a hill or at an angle?" Position has no effect on the guards. The car must be disturbed as when a thief tries to raise the hood with the idea of cutting the horn wires. On some of the automatic alarms it is possible to adjust the warning control so as to get from 7 to 70 intermittent blows of the horns.

Replacing the Regulator?

If you are faced with the problem of replacing the voltage regulator on your car don't let anyone persuade you that any kind of regulator will do. There isn't even a universal type that will be satisfactory. You must use one that matches the particular make and type of generator already on the car, or else change the generator to match the regulator. The latter is necessary when considering using a vibrating regulator to replace the two-step kind.

Meaning of Pressure Drop

Judging from my mail motorists still worry a lot about changes in reading of the oil pressure gauge. True, these changes always mean something but seldom do they warn of real trouble. Except for clogged lines, which is indicated by the pointer going to maximum reading and staying there, most of the conditions shown by the gauge are those which are natural to normal wear ing in the regulator was not followed with the result that the generator's polarity was reversed. It is important to connect the wire to the "ground" terminal first, and the wire to the "F" terminal of the regulator last.

Q. In changing tires I usually have difficulty loosening the bead from the rim. Is there any way to check the tendency for the bead to stick and the rim to rust?

—W. M. B.

A. It is a good plan to rub a little vegetable oil soft soap on the inside as well as the outside of the bead. Then graphite—the rim. Petroleum oils or greases should not be used for this purpose.

Mr. Russell will answer questions regarding the safe care and operation of your car. Just address him care of the Gettysburg Times and enclose stamped, self-addressed envelope for personal reply.

The Ruhr mines produce three-fourths of Germany's coal.

Guldens

Guldens.—Privates John W. Dutera, Dale McClellan and Paul Myers, who were inducted into the Army June 1, are now stationed at Keesler Field, Mississippi.

Mr. and Mrs. Benjamin Kiessling and daughter, Barbara Jean, are spending the week at the home of the former's parents, Mr. and Mrs. Camillo Kiessling, York.

George Dutera, Jr., has secured employment in Mechanicsburg. Mark Smith is now employed in York.

MUST BUY PRIVATE TIRES

Washington, June 20, (AP)—Wendell Lund, director of the WPB's labor production division, contended Friday that "tires on non-essential private automobiles must be purchased by the government and allocated to war workers who are co-operating fully in carrying full loads of fellow workers."

Uncle Sam Asks You to Save Your Tires and We Ask

DO YOU KNOW ABOUT SAFE-T-SEAL?

It stops punctures instantly by automatically sealing up the hole. Adds thousands of miles to your castings by maintaining even air pressure. Protects you and your family by sealing punctures while car is in motion.

YOU CANNOT AFFORD TO HAVE A FLAT TIRE TODAY, AND IT'S UP TO YOU AS TO HOW LONG YOUR TIRES WILL LAST. Add 25% to 30% to your tire mileage—the tires you now have may be the last ones you will obtain for the duration of the war. We will show you how with SAFE-T-SEAL! We can puncture-proof your tires for only $2.00 each (Size 600 by 16). Be sure to get genuine SAFE-T-SEAL!

- SAFE-T-SEAL will not deteriorate or injure rubber . . . and is not affected by heat or cold.
- Does not interfere with valve operation—air can be put in or let out.
- Cut or torn tubes can be vulcanized as usual, without harm.
